WINS FIGHT TO REPEAL THE TOLLS

First Round of Battle Is Captured By President Wilson

THE DEBATE IS SHUT OFF

By Vote of 207 to 176 on the Motion of Chairman Henry Who Demands the Vote on "Previous Question."

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) Bulletin, Washington, March 27.—President Wilson won the first battle of his fight to repeal the Panama tolls exemption today when the house by a vote of 207 to 176 refused to continue discussion on the rule to limit to twenty hours, the debate on the Sims bill.

At 1:15 o'clock Chairman Henry demanded a vote on the "previous question" and that brought the first part of the fight to a decisive point.

Chairman Henry's motion for the "previous question" was adopted 207 to 176 and thus the house voted to shut off debate on the rule.

Eight Republicans voted with administration on previous question.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) Washington, March 27.—When the Panama tolls fight was resumed in the house today the battle lines were drawn in this manner:

Fifty-five minutes remained for debate on the special rule to limit discussion to twenty hours on the Sims bill to repeal the exemption for coastwise ships.

Chairman Henry of the rules committee leading that phase of the fight for the administration forces was ready at the conclusion of the fifty minutes to "move the previous question," a parliamentary move to shut off debate on the rule and force a vote, the first real test of strength.

Opponents of the administration program, strengthened by Speaker Clark's vigorous denunciation of the attempt at cloture and renewed by his declaration that he would vote against limiting debate were prepared to bring every resource into play to beat "the previous question" and thus throw down the bars for unlimited debate not only on the rule, but on the repeal bill itself. On this first test vote hung not only the question of pressing the administration measure through, but also the greater one of opening it to amendment, for the rule proposes that only one amendment may be permitted to intervene—and that would be one motion to recommit to the commerce committee.

Administration leaders realized that if beaten on the cloture rule the bill itself would be open to amendments, one of which gaining favor today, was to repeal the exemption but to specifically provide that the right to grant free passage to American ships under existing treaties should not be surrendered. In this way the opposing forces were drawn up to renew one of the bitterest congressional fights of recent years, certainly the hardest fought of President Wilson's administration. Over-night conferences and strengthening of the battle lines brought no visible shift in position of either side in this contest; in which party lines have been broken, and Democrats, Republicans and Progressives divided into two camps under banners proclaiming either for or against repeal of the exemption.

The defection of such Democratic party leaders as Speaker Clark, Representative Underwood, Chairman Fitzgerald, of the appropriations committee, and others from the president's support, served to make the fight more bitter. President Wilson received early reports from his supporters at the White House and was confident that his argument that he was asking no man to change his opinions but to correct a situation, would win the day.

The sudden adjournment of the house last night, when only fifty-five minutes more would have brought the first test vote was variously interpreted. Speaker Clark's vigorous statement denouncing the rule received various constructions among close observers of the political situation.

Speaker Clark warned the floor and galleries that an acrimonious and exciting debate like this "should call for perfect order. He had some difficulty in quieting the House but finally succeeded.

Representatives Sherwood, Democrat of Ohio, was the first speaker. He urged an amendment to disman-

"Billy" Sunday, Spotlight, Whirlwind Evangelist.

Rev. William Ashley Sunday, exhorter of the first rank, leader in sensational revival meetings is an Iowa 52 years old. His campaigns at Columbus and Pittsburg were the biggest ever held both in point of attendance, cash receipts and number of conversions. Recently he conducted a great one night meeting in N. Y. City. Sunday began life as a hired hand on a farm, then he became an undertaker's assistant, a railroad employee, and a baseball player, joining the White Sox as an outfielder. He is a vaudeville preacher, a reveler in slang, a pantomime and acrobatic pulpiteer, an evangelist who radiates in the limelight, who hits hard in the most direct language in order to reach the masses and stir their souls to conversion. His meetings have converted hosts and there have been almost riots among crowds seeking admission. He is a special denouncer of the saloons and of immorality and has accomplished great good by his gymnastic stunts in a good cause. His wife was Helen Thompson of Chicago.

Of Course It's Fun

If you are watching the windows where the "probable answers" to the Booklovers' Contest pictures are posted from day to day you have a faint idea of the widespread interest that is being taken in this $4,000 picture game. The crowds that visit these windows and note the solutions for comparison with their own answers testify to the popularity of the contest which from day to day grows bigger. More and more people are getting interested right along because they have found that they can get in the game now and be at no disadvantage at all. The little help that is needed is freely and cheerfully given by friends who are in the contest. All anybody has to do is to obtain the back coupons and a catalogue. That's easy as the Advocate has them for you.

"I haven't started to study the pictures as yet," said a prominent business man to the Advocate yesterday evening, "but I have seen every picture and have watched the crowds who are interested in the contest. I intend to come around and get a full set of the coupons in a few days and get busy. I don't know that I can win that $515 cash or the auto or piano but I'm going to have the fun of trying and they tell me it's some fun too."

BIBLICAL

CHRONOLOGY HAS BEEN ESTABLISHED BY DECRYPTING HIEROGLYPHICS

Probably One of the Actual Foundation Stones of Tower of Babel Is Found.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) New Haven, Conn., March 27.—Inscription on clay cylinders in the Babylonian collection at Yale University, have been deciphered, it was announced today, and much information for students of biblical chronology has been obtained.

One cylinder inscribed for Nebuchadnezzar, who reigned B. C. 605 to 561 recounts his deeds with reference to the restoration and enlargement of the walls and moats of Babylon and of temples and sanctuaries thereabouts. He records the rebuilding of Marbruk, recognized as the ancient tower of Babel, of the Book of Genesis.

Nebuchadnezzar adds, according to the translation:

"I sought and found the foundation stone of the temple of Lugalmara. My deity and I laid it upon the foundation stone of Naram-Sin, King of my Ancient Ancestor."

This ancestor presumably lived 3,000 years before Nebuchadnezzar. Naram-Sin was the builder of Babylon and perhaps the greatest builder of all history.

The Nebuchadnezzar cylinder was found by Arabs at the same site where an inscription of Naram-Sin, and is probably one of the actual foundation stones of the temple of Lugalmara in Murad.

"The inscription says that Naram-Sin subdued nine hostile armies in a year and carried three of their kings bound before the God, Enlil. The record ends."

"Whoever alters this inscribed stone, may be Gods' hammer and Lugalmara destroy in estate and exterminate his seed."

PATENTS

ON KODAKS HAVE BEEN IN LITIGATION FOR MANY YEARS BY COMPANIES

Matter Is Settled and The 36 Year Old Widow of Inventor Gets a Good Sum.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) New York, March 27.—Representatives of the Eastman Kodak Company and the Ansco Company confirmed today that a money settlement, the amount of which they would not state, had been agreed upon in the matter of the Goodwin patent, over which the concerns fought for years until the federal court of appeals recently decided in favor of the Ansco company. It had been said that the Eastman concern would carry the case to the United States supreme court, but the settlement agreed upon will end the litigation, notice of which, it was said, would be filed today before Judge Hazel, in the federal district court at Buffalo, before whom the original suit was brought.

All information concerning the exact amount of the settlement was refused here. It was said representatives of both concerns had agreed to keep the amount a secret. The suit involved the use of the Goodwin patent claimed by the Ansco company since 1898, and covers all cartridge films, film packs and cinematograph films made by the Eastman company.

It is said the widow of the Rev. Hannibal Goodwin who invented the process, will receive a substantial sum as her share of the settlement. Mrs. Goodwin is 86 years old and lives in Newark, N. J.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) Washington, March 27.—Miss Mattie R. Tyler, seventy, a grand daughter of Former President Tyler, went to the White House today to plead with President Wilson to continue her as postmaster at Portland, Va.

Miss Tyler who has held the post seventeen years, says she supports herself and sister on the salary of $750 a year, but that now "a clique of Virginia politicians is trying to deprive her of the position. She did not see the President, who was occupied with the cabinet but left a note asking for an engagement which will be granted."

The postoffice department several years ago recommended another to succeed her but she successfully pleaded in person with President Roosevelt.

The proposed certificates would be payable in twenty installments, the last due in 1924.

The bureau of accounting said this was a mere technical evasion of the law.

No solution of the difficult problems confronting the British government was reached at the cabinet council this morning and it was announced that another meeting of the ministers would discuss the matter before Premier Asquith made his appearance in the House of Commons. The lobbies of the House of Parliament were crowded and all kinds of rumors were in circulation.

LAKE SHORE IS CHARGED WITH DISCRIMINATION

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) Columbus, March 27.—Discrimination in favor of a rival stone company is charged against the Lake Shore & Michigan Southern Railway by the Lorain and Southern Railway, in a complaint filed with the state public utilities commission today. The Lorain and Southern road is owned by the Ohio Quarries company and because the L. S. and M. S. road refuses to pay that road for freight delivered from way points to the Lake Shore at Lake Shore Junction, and yet grants ample ranging facilities to the Cleveland Stone company, it is claimed discrimination is shown.

The Lorain and Southern Railway runs from Lorain to Wellington, with a branch from South Amherst to Lake Shore Junction.

"There are 250,000 farmers in Missouri, and they stand ready to employ farm workers to the number of at least 25,000," he said.

Battle Said To Have Been Bloody One With Heavy Losses On Both Sides, According To Dispatches Received From Front

REBEL CHIEFTAIN PREDICTS THE FALL OF TORREON

Says He Will Take City Either by Saturday or Sunday—Artillery of Rebels Was Effective, the Big Guns Doing Deadly Execution—Three Assaults were Made By Constitutionalists and at Times Battle Extended Into Streets Leading Into the Besieged City.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) Constitutionalists Headquarters above Torreon, March 26.—(Delayed by censor)—General Villa and his rebel army after four days of almost incessant fighting during which victory seemed first with one side and then with the other, occupied Gomez Palacio today.

Losses on both sides have been heavy. The rebels delivered three assaults before permanent success was achieved and at times the battle extended into the streets leading to Torreon proper. Villa predicts that he will have the latter city by Saturday or Sunday.

A pitiable incident of the battle was the disabled wounded crying for water, the lack of which was as deadly as bullets.

The meager hospital corps consisting of a half dozen wagons did heroic work but was unable to cope with the situation.

It was the first time in recent Mexican revolutions that the flag of the Red Cross has been seen in a rebel army.

Garbed in a dusty, torn suit, a slouch hat and a red handkerchief tied about his neck as in his bandits days, General Villa among the ragged, thirsty, half-famished soldiers who have fought day and night for the capture of Torreon, was a conspicuous figure, though the conventional notion of a general directing a campaign through field glasses, and with a map spread before him, instead he climbed over the rocky hills or crept among the mesquite bushes.

The rebels fought amid scenes of intense suffering. Water was scarce and was supplied only from tanks hauled on freight cars at the rear. Rations had become unavailable after the first days fighting, the battle was continuous to permit the men to retire for food.

With nothing behind them but a desert and before them only the enemy, the rebels fought unaffected by the scattered heaps of dead and wounded. Villa's principal activity was that of a scout but his presence never failed to inspire the soldiers wherever he appeared.

General Villa, during pauses in the firing, talked confidently of the fall of Torreon. He did not place himself, however, among those who believe the capture of Torreon would spell the collapse of the Huerta regime, but intimated rather that he expected Huerta to fight on until possibly the rebel forces surrounded Mexico City.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) Juarez, Mexico, March 27.—The text of Villa's message addressed to "Carranza, chief of the revolution," reads: "After three days and nights of bloody fighting, the enemy has been dislodged from Gomez Palacio. We have not been able to determine our own losses in killed and wounded. All of our chiefs conducted themselves well and co-operated splendidly."

"The artillery was particularly effective and to it, I must ascribe the panic created in the ranks of the enemy. General Angeles commanded the big guns with his usual ability. The brunt of the fighting was borne by the Villa and Morelos brigades, the latter commanded by General Urbina. All of the generals combine with me in sending best wishes."

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) Juarez, Mexico, March 27.—The receipts of newspaper messages from the front confirming the capture of Gomez Palacio caused great rejoicing in Juarez. A telegram from General Villa to General Carranza reporting the victory at Gomez Palacio and the repulse of the federal attack on Lerdo also was received. The message which was congratulatory in tone was relayed by wire to Guzman where Carranza arrived yesterday on his way to Juarez.

Villa's telegram renewed his acknowledgment of Carranza as chief of the revolution. It added that the brigades of General Benavides, Herrera, Ortega and Urbina were concentrating for an assault on Torreon proper.

General Angeles, secretary of war in Carranza's cabinet and in charge of the artillery at Gomez Palacio also telegraphed to the Jefe supremo congratulating him on possession of so efficient a military commander as General Villa.

If information given out at military headquarters here today is correct, the rebel attack on Torreon is being made today. It was stated that General Herrera had captured the Torreon bull ring in the northern edge of the city. General Angeles was said to be directing a heavy artillery fire on the federal garrison from the north.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) Juarez, Mex., March 27.—(Torreon) As the wind blows a straw, so did every message concerning the probable events at Gomez Palacio, where General Villa is fighting his decisive battle with the Huerta government, say rebel sympathizers in this town today. And through it all not one reliable scrap of information was gleaned from the maze of unconfirmed reports which hourly were received. From federal sources came the news that Villa had been beaten, from rebel sources came declarations of victory for the constitutionalist general and from whence none knows, came scores of other unconfirmed reports.

One brief message came from Villa himself. It was curt and contained nothing concerning the fortunes of his battle. It was a command for speedy shipment of the military monoplane from Juarez and an order that all equipment for rebuilding railroad tracks be hurried south. The fact that the message was sent from Gomez Palacio gave rise to the belief that the rebel leader had captured that suburb of Torreon and hope ran high among constitutionalists here that it had for 62 hours of complete silence from the soldiers at the front.

That Villa had ordered the monoplane was construed by some to mean that he was to begin his attack on Torreon proper within the immediate future and that he had met unexpected conditions to surmount. The machine had to undergo repairs here, and early today it was not known how soon it could be put in running order, but Manuel Chao, military governor of Chihuahua, last night gave his personal supervision to the work of expediting its shipment to the front. Track equipment demanded will be shipped both from Chihuahua City and Juarez.

The order for the equipment was thought by him to have meant that General Villa had met far more stubborn resistance in his attack upon Torreon than he had expected, and that he wished to have apparatus to repair his railway immediately at hand so that he might remain away from his base at Chihuahua for as long a time as possible.

COURT SCORES UNNATURAL ACT OF PRISONER

For contributing to the delinquency of his 16-year-old niece Hazel Granby, a Hartzler school pupil, Darlington Wright, 34, was given the limit by Judge Robbins Hunter in juvenile court, Friday morning. Wright must serve a full year in the county jail and pay the costs of prosecution.

The girl and her mother, with several other witnesses and spectators were in the court room Friday morning when Wright was brought in from the county jail by Officer Dwyer. The girl, a mere child in appearance, and her mother did not even look at the prisoner while the preliminaries were being disposed of, and Wright kept his eyes centered in another direction.

After a short conference the case was called and Wright made known his intention of changing his plea of not guilty entered Thursday to one of guilty.

Judge Hunter scored the prisoner mercilessly and regretted that the statutes did not permit him to inflict a more severe sentence, while Wright hung his head and listened to the reprimand. The court branded the intimate conduct of Wright with his niece as an unnatural and inhuman act, and informed the prisoner he could consider himself fortunate that he was not being sent to the penitentiary for a long term.

The prisoner showed no emotion when Judge Hunter sentenced him to more than a year behind prison bars.

Judge Hunter later assessed a fine of $25 against the child's mother, for contributing to the daughter's delinquency, and ordered the girl taken to the Girls Industrial School in Delaware. Probation Officer Mary Miller left with her in the afternoon.

Professor Harry T. Peck, Who Shot Himself

Professor Harry Thurston Peck, once in charge of the Latin chair at Columbia University in New York, and a noted literary critic for years, shot himself to death in Stamford, Conn., the other day as the direct result of a breach of promise case brought against him by his former stenographer, Esther Quinn. She tried to recover $50,000 from him, but as he didn't have that sum of money she didn't get it.

Following the notoriety over the suit Professor Peck lost his position in Columbia, and he did not seem able to withstand the blow. Later his mind became disordered, and when he was found in poverty his former wife came to his aid. For some years she paid his expenses. It was believed that her decision to do so no longer was the immediate cause of his suicide. He was practically without means when he killed himself in Stamford.

Mr. Irwin will occupy the Hudson avenue house. The construction will be of hollow tile, concrete and will be of a new asbestos tile, a little of which has been used in Newark heretofore.

B. F. KEITH DEAD; YOUTHFUL BRIDE IS AN OHIO GIRL

B. F. Keith well known vaudeville magnate, dropped dead of heart failure last midnight in his hotel at Palm Beach, Florida, where he has been spending the winter. This news was contained in an Associated Press dispatch this morning.

Mr. Keith was 67 years old and apparently had been in the best of health. Mrs. Keith and Paul Keith, a son, were with him here. Mr. Keith and his son Paul had been discussing business matters in their apartments, and the latter, stepping outside for a moment, returned to find his father dead.

The body will be taken to Boston tomorrow.

Mr. Keith was married October 29 in Washington to Miss Ethel Bird Chase, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. P. B. Chase, former residents of Mt. Vernon. Mr. Chase now has a country home near Sparta, Knox county, where he spends most of his time. He has been owner of the largest vaudeville house in Washington.

His bride was but 26 years old and their marriage was a complete surprise to friends and relatives.

Mr. Keith made a large fortune in the vaudeville business. He was a native of Hillsboro, N. H., and had lived in New England all his life. He originated the 'continuous performance' in vaudeville in that city in 1885. He began his career as proprietor of a small museum here two years earlier.

MUSICAL PRODIGY IS NOW VISITING MRS. O. VOGELMEIER

Mrs. Otto Vogelmeier of Hudson avenue, is giving a series of informal entertainments to a number of her friends in honor of her mother Mrs. James Hayes, of Pittsburg and her friend Mrs. Katherine Dungan and the latter's daughter Olive aged 11 years.

These entertainments began Thursday afternoon with a luncheon, followed in the evening by a recital and the same program will be followed today. At each of these functions the wonderful genius of little Olive Dungan is the marvel of the guests.

This little miss is in reality a musical prodigy in the best meaning of that much misused term. The quality of her gift cannot fully be expressed in terms of mere technique. It has its source and unique development in an inspiration almost entirely psychological. The piano is to her but a means of expression of the fire of musical conception, before which technical difficulties are subordinate, really nonexistent in connection with the higher plane upon which her soul exercises its activities.

Olive cannot read notes at all. They convey no idea to her mentality, nor aid to her genius. Her conceptions are inspired, demand expression and for this she must needs use a material method of communicating them to others, and this is the instrument.

A story is told the little girl, in which a description of some event or phenomenon in nature. It is received by her consciousness in the terms of music and is reproduced from the piano keys with an imagery truly wonderful. A woodland scene, the bird-song of varied tone color, a storm crash, or the whispering zephyr impresses the mind as a musical conception and is reproduced to the wondering delight of those who hear her.

The little girl has made several appearances with the Pittsburg orchestra and several of the concert clubs of that city, and the press of that city has with one accord given her the meed of genius.

Her mother is a thorough musician and has an adequate technical equipment of voice, and for violin and piano.

Her accompaniments add greatly to the enjoyment experienced in listening to her daughter.

THIS KIDNEY REMEDY A GREAT HEALER

For a number of years I was troubled with my kidneys, condition so serious that part of the time I was unable to work. Tried several remedies, also different physicians without relief. A sample of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root was left at my house. I commenced to take it and continued it until I had taken several bottles and am now cured. Am sixty-two years of age and able to work every day. I attribute my cure to the use of your Swamp-Root.

My wife also was cured by Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root. Symptoms were very serious, including hemorrhages, great pain and distress. I commenced giving her Swamp-Root and it was just as healing in her case. We can heartily recommend your Swamp-Root to all kidney sufferers.

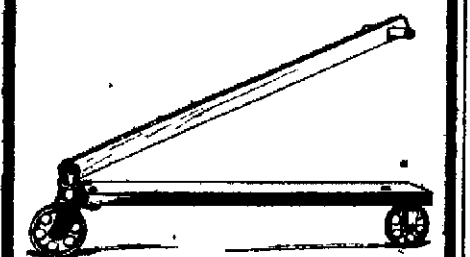

Very truly yours,
H. C. GRIFFITH,

THE NEWARK TELEPHONE COMPANY STILL CONTINUES TO GROW

Large Increase Since Last Directory Was Published.
Company About to Start Construction of Its St. Louisville Plant.

That the Newark Telephone company has found the Automatic system a success, is evidenced by the following list of new telephones which have been installed since the Directory recently issued was placed in the hands of the publishers, about February 15th. The company has had an exceedingly heavy growth in the past few years, and now has an average of one telephone for every seven and a half people in the city.

In addition to this remarkable development, this company gives service on a system free of toll charges, to 340 rural telephones connected with its Newark exchange, about 400 at Granville, over 100 at Hanover, making a total of over 4400 telephones, all of which are connected to the Newark exchange by automatic trunks so that the subscribers in Newark can with their own dials call the operator at any one of these points.

On April 1st, the company will start the construction of its new plant at St. Louisville. All the material for which has already been ordered. This plant is to be a model of the telephone art. No bare wire will be used in the town, and lead covered cable will be stretched from one end of the village to the other. A new switchboard with all the latest appliances, including Harmonic ringing party line converter has been ordered, and is now being manufactured by The Cracraft-Leich Electric company of Genoa, Ill., which will be ready for installation on the first of May. The company expects to have this plant in operation about May 15th. The St. Louisville exchange, like Granville, Hanover and the Newark farm-line board, will be connected with the automatic switchboard by means of Automatic trunks. The company will announce later through the press, the date on which the St. Louisville exchange will be open for business, and the public in that vicinity will be invited to inspect this up to date plant.

Please cut out this list and paste it in the back of your directory for future references

PICKETT SENT TO WORKS; ONE MAN TO JAIL

William Pickett, arrested yesterday on a drunk charge, drew a fine of $25 and costs in police court Friday morning and was sentenced to the Columbus workhouse. Pickett has been a frequent offender before Mayor Bigbee.

A Newark man, arrested on a drunk charge, was in such condition when arraigned Friday morning that he created a scene in the court room and it was necessary for officers to interfere and forcibly control the man who was still suffering from effects of drink. He was sent to the county jail to receive treatment for his trouble.

Otto Haynes and Samuel Miller were held on a charge of disorderly conduct in Monroe street. Both drew fines of $5 and cost. Haynes paid the amount and Miller's sentence was suspended as he had a job and was ready to go to work.

AKRON STOMACH VICTIMS ARE RESTORED BY MAYR'S REMEDY

A. M. George Gets Rid of Malady After Several Years of Suffering.

A. M. George, who has offices at 304 Walsh Building, Akron, was for many years a sufferer from stomach ailments and took many medicines. At last he found Mayr's Wonderful Stomach Remedy. The relief he sought came swiftly. He writes: "It is wonderful what results I received. I haven't had a symptom of the old trouble that I suffered for several years. Mr. Feiler, my neighbor, who sent for some, claims that he is a different man altogether, and his wife, who has been in poor health for several years, thinks it is doing her good."

Just such letters come from all over the country. Mayr's Wonderful Stomach Remedy convalesces with the first dose—no long treatment. Mr. George's experience is typical. Mayr's wonderful stomach Remedy clears the digestive tract of maldigestion and poisonous matter. It gives quick relief from stomach, liver and bowel troubles. Many say it has saved them from dangerous operations and many are sure it has saved their lives. Because of the remarkable success of this remedy there are many imitations, so be cautious. Be sure it's MAYR'S. Go to Hall's Drug store and ask about the wonderful results it has accomplished—or send to Geo. H. Mayr Mfg. Chemist, 154-156 Whiting St., Chicago, Ill., for free book on stomach ailments and many grateful letters from people who have been restored. Any druggist can tell you its wonderful effects.

CHILDREN LOVE SYRUP OF FIGS

Mother! Don't be cruel! Don't force unnecessary, violent "physic" into your sick child.

Look back at your childhood days. Remember the "dose" mother insisted on—castor oil, calomel, cathartics. How you hated them. Now you fought against taking them. With our children it's different. Mothers who cling to the old form of physic simply don't realize what they do. The children's revolt is well-founded. Their tender little "insides" are injured by them.

If your child's stomach, liver and bowels need cleansing, give only delicious "California Syrup of Figs." Its action is positive, but gentle. Millions of mothers keep this harmless "fruit laxative" handy; they know children love to take it; that it never fails to clean the liver and bowels and sweeten the stomach, and that a teaspoonful given today saves a sick child tomorrow.

Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly on each bottle. Beware of counterfeiters sold here. See that it is made by "California Fig Syrup Company." Refuse any other kind with contempt.

SAGE TEA DANDY TO DARKEN HAIR

Look years younger! Use the old-time Sage Tea and Sulphur and nobody will know.

You can turn gray, faded hair beautifully dark and lustrous almost overnight if you'll get a 50-cent bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy" at any drug store. Millions of bottles of this old, famous Sage Tea Recipe are sold annually, says a well known druggist here, because it darkens the hair so naturally and evenly that no one can tell it has been applied.

Those whose hair is turning gray, becoming faded, dry, scraggly and thin have a surprise awaiting them, because after one or two applications the gray hair vanishes and your locks become luxuriantly dark and beautiful—all dandruff goes, scalp itching and falling hair stops.

This is the age of youth Gray haired, unattractive folks aren't wanted around, so get busy with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur tonight and you'll be delighted with your dark, handsome hair and your youthful appearance with a few days. Assents, Hall's drug store.

FACE PLEASED AUDIENCE AT RECITAL HALL

[Special to the Advocate] Granville, March 27.—The farce comedy, "The Private Secretary," was given last night at Recital Hall. This in the annual play which is presented each year by one of the literary societies of Denison. There are very few heavy speeches and the comedy depends entirely upon the ability of the actors to display their talent. This was well demonstrated to the satisfaction of the large audience attending.

The Dayton club composed of twenty-five members, enjoyed a buffet luncheon Wednesday evening from 6 to 9:30 at the Shortliffe home, one mile south of Granville.

President Clark W. Chamberlain and Dean Judson, represented Denison at the Denison-Cincinnati banquet last evening. They left early Thursday and will return Friday.

The annual spring vacation at Denison will open at 4:30 next Thursday afternoon and college work will be resumed at 9:30, Thursday, April 9.

GROUP RELIEVED IN FIFTEEN MINUTES

No need to dash with nauseous drugs or alcoholic syrups. Simply rub a little Vick's "Vap-O-Rub" Group and Pneumonia Salve well over the throat and chest. The vapors inhaled loosen the tough choking phlegm and ease the difficult breathing. One application at bed time, covered with a warm flannel cloth, is a sure preventive. Vick's is quicker than internal medicines for all inflammations of the air passages from head colds and catarrh—asthma and bronchitis—down to deep chest colds and pneumonia. Try a jar now—25c, 50c, and $1.00.

May in the Middle Ages.

May seems to have been little known in the middle ages. Much was wintered mostly on straw and leaves. Tuscany, who wrote the reign of Queen Elizabeth, gives much advice to the farmer as to the cutting and storing of green branches which might serve as fodder when pasture failed. He is particular as to the desirability of saving the beech cuttings for the milk cows, whereas for sheep anything would do. A miserable dependence it would appear to us now, but then it seems it have been looked on, if not as a matter of course, at least as a thing practiced by the more forward and capable. There must have been some natural meadows in England even then, but perhaps all their produce was saved for the horses of kings. As far as I can recollect, there is no mention of hay in Shakespeare. If we except Bottom's remark "Good hay, sweet hay, hath no fellow," and even that suggests its rarity. By Milton's time, 100 years later "The mower whets his scythe" and the famous haycock in the mead "were familiar country objects."—From "A Farmer's Notebook."

The Machine of Justice

(Columbus Dispatch)

A law, the essence of which is justice, is not to be cried down, no matter how much the partisan press and politicians howl. The Warnes taxation law was framed to promote justice, and all indications are that it is performing the service for which it was designed. It is bringing taxable property out of hiding and putting upon it the proportionate and proper burden of government. Such is the report from every county where the assessors have been at work.

Is this a thing for which anybody should be blamed? Let every taxpayer put the question to himself and answer it honestly without partisan bias. The great grievance of the taxpayer has been that he has paid while scores of persons of his acquaintance have escaped payment, either because they misrepresented their taxable possessions or were willing to be missed by the assessor. Is he now going to condemn a system which is putting an end to those misrepresentations and evasions and is making his neighbors stand shoulder to shoulder with him in support of the government? Is he going to condemn, not only the law, but also the legislature and the governor who are responsible for it? Here is a new era of taxation justice. The tax-dodgers and the out-of-office politicians are howling "machine." But they are not going to fool thinking men. It is, for the present at least, the machine of justice. If it ever comes to be anything else, it will be dealt with accordingly.

Spending Public Money

(Youngstown Vindicator)

Public officials who spend the money raised by tax should have a care, for while the people are willingly returning property for taxation they are not likely to be quiet in the event there is a more free spending of money than heretofore. They stood for the boost in the valuation of real estate to near its market value, there being the promise of limitation of the rate which was done under the Smith one per cent. law which Governor Harmon insisted upon as the keeping of faith with the people. The promise now is a lower tax rate with the swelling of the duplicate. That promise must be made good, or the taxpayers will want to know the reason.

Many of our municipalities are today face to face with a condition due to lack of funds to accomplish all that is desired in the way of improvement. Not a little condemnation was visited upon the one per cent. law which put an end to rate boosting till in some places it almost equaled interest paid on deposits. The trouble is too many municipalities in the past were picked for party politics and public improvements lagged or fell short of being all they should have been. Much of the trouble is a burdensome inheritance from other days, but economy in affairs must be practiced till conditions become better. In this course something may be done to help slice the cost of living.

Newark Chautauqua.

William Jennings Bryan once said, "The Chautauqua affords one of the best opportunities now presented to the public speaker for the discussion of questions of interest to the public." and on another occasion Theodore Roosevelt remarked that "the Chautauqua is the most American thing in America."

During the steaming days of July and August when business lags and communities ache for outdoor amusements, a big Chautauqua tent, 90x130 feet, is an ideal resort, and the events to be enjoyed here are eagerly anticipated.

The program, as just announced, has many excellent features and is well worth the patronage asked by local backers. Newark has always stood for progress in every line and the Chautauqua is recognized as one of our greatest agencies for uplift, entertainment and education.

Much interest will be attached to the actual arrival of the Chautauqua. Flags, tags and banners will be distributed about the city, and no opportunity will be missed for making the week a grand success.

The coming of a Chautauqua to any community means much for commercial interests and popular education, and further program announcements from the Redpath offices will be awaited with great interest.

Newark Night School.

Newark's first public night school was a distinct success. When the Board of Education adopted Superintendent Hawkins' recommendation and provided the funds and equipment for the free night school, the teachers expressed the hope and belief that the enrollment would reach 100, but almost twice that number enrolled. Of the total of 174 students, 131 were men and boys and 43 were women. Forty-three could not speak the English language and 52 were under 21 years of age.

The detailed report of the night school submitted by the principal Mr. Moninger, was printed in yesterday's Advocate. The net expense to the school board was $263.75. It was money well expended and the night school should be a feature next season.

Kill Flies Now.

Filth means flies, and one fly that escapes the early swatter means thousands of flies later in the season. Flies mean sickness and sickness means, well, everybody knows what sickness means. Therefore let's get rid of the flies now while they are few in number. Let's get rid of the trash and dirt in which the flies breed. To help in the crusade against the early spring fly the Advocate has obtained a large number of fly swatters which will be given to people who call at this office for them beginning tomorrow.

People who have traveled over broken down sidewalks all winter are hoping that the cement men will have a busy season in Newark. Some of the most prominent residential streets of Newark are sadly in need of new sidewalks. The time to do the work is early spring, and spring is now here.

Our Office Boy.

THE OFFIS KID.

In a country school near Auburn Neb., the pupils bring from home materials from which they cook lunch at noontime, each pupil supplying part of the whole meal.

On Second Thought

The elderly rich man spends his declining years formulating plans which will prevent those of his relatives whom he dislikes from sharing in his estate.

About the only way to "stump" an American audience is to ask it to sing The Star Spangled Banner.

Do not be discouraged. So long as men pile up comfortable fortunes giving production of Uncle Tom's Cabin under a tent there is a chance for everybody.

Briefly described, an American is a man who believes he can better judge the play from a seat in the left field bleachers than can the trained observer who is over it.

A great man is one who has the friendship of the newspapers.

Probably the most effective disguise that a man can employ is a new hat.

Jabez Featheringham who hasn't been to New York for several years, writes in to inquire whether Lew Field finally succeeded in his evident intention to destroy the sight of Joe Weber's left eye.

If a man dies, leaving a policy calling for three or four thousand dollars, the loss is often covered by insurance.

Eph Wileys says an optimistic person is one who believes the Indians finally will become self supporting.

The chances are that if you have built up and are conducting a successful business, a law finally will be passed against it.

A DAILY THOUGHT.

FRIDAY.
The charm of life is its uncertainty. When you feel inclined to grumble at "ups and downs" remember that you would probably like a dead, flat, even existence still less!

INCREASE WEIGHT QUICKLY

Simple Way for the Thin and Pale to Be Plump and Rosy.

Samose can hardly be termed a medicine, it is in reality a flesh forming food. Taken before or after meals, it mingles with the food you eat, enables it to assimilate and readily digest, so as to make rich blood and pleasing plumpness.

After Samose has been used a week or ten days a noticeable gain in weight is seen. The sallow complexion will become rosy, the sunken cheeks will have a ruddy glow, the eyes will be bright, the breath sweet and the step elastic.

Use Samose for a month and all the flesh of the body will be firm and solid, and the outlines beautiful and symmetrical.

With the return of good health following the use of Samose, emaciation is overcome, and the thin and scrawny are once more plump and rosy.

W. A. Erman's customers have told him of the remarkable results following the use of Samose, the great flesh forming food, and he is so thoroughly convinced of its reliability that he is selling it under his personal guarantee to refund the money if it does not do all that is claimed for it. You who are thin and in poor health cannot afford to let another day pass without getting a 50c box of Samose on those terms.

March 27 in American History.

1836-357 American Texans, including Colonel J. W. Fannin, prisoners of war, were massacred at Goliad Tex., by Mexican Indians.

1847-Vera Cruz, Mexico, surrendered to the United States army, commanded by General Winfield Scott.

1888-Felix O. C. Darley, noted artist, died; born 1852.

1909-Colonel William Lamb, hero of the Confederate defense of Fort Fisher, North Carolina, in 1865, died; born 1836.

Now For One Mighty Swat!

The time to "swat the fly" is now. Every fly killed in March is the same as killing thousands a little later. This newspaper has had a good deal to say during the past few days upon the importance of getting rid of the flies, and there is no doubt that concerted action now will mean much for the city this coming summer. Kill the early flies, remove all filth at the spring clean up, screen your doors and windows. Your doctor will tell you that this is splendid advice.

Desiring to "practice as well as preach," the Advocate has just purchased a large number of fly swatters for distribution among the friends of this newspaper who will take the trouble to call at this office for them. While the supply is large, the demand will also be heavy, so it is probable that the stock of swatters will not last long. First come, first served. No swatters will be given until Saturday morning, but those who call at the Advocate office Saturday will each be given a fly swatter, and they will be given away from day to day as long as the supply lasts. Kill the early flies. Clean up the premises. Spring is here. The Advocate has a fly swatter for you.

To Each Age Its Problems.

It is not enough that we leave our institutions as our fathers shaped them. They knew little or nothing of the conditions which we face. Sufficient unto the age is the work thereof. It is not the right of any generation to project its will into the future, but it is the duty of each generation to adjust its institutions to meet its own needs.

Men need not wait until death to realize many of their ideals. They can have things here on earth which their fathers associated with the millennium. They need no longer overwork nor go cold and hungry nor suffer from pestilence or even famine. Machinery has provided the possibilities of a new life. When all of these possibilities are realized—when no one is overworked, cold or hungry, when all are leading joyous, purposeful lives—adjustment will be complete—welfare will be universal.—From "Social Sanity," by Scott Nearing.

Good Idea.

When they have their pictures taken people try to look pleasant. Why not wear that look all the time? It will shorten no man's life.—Knorrville Tribune.

TEMPER, not trouble, makes the misery of most men's and women's lives.

FRECKLES

February and March Bring Out Un-sightly Spots. How to Remove Easily.

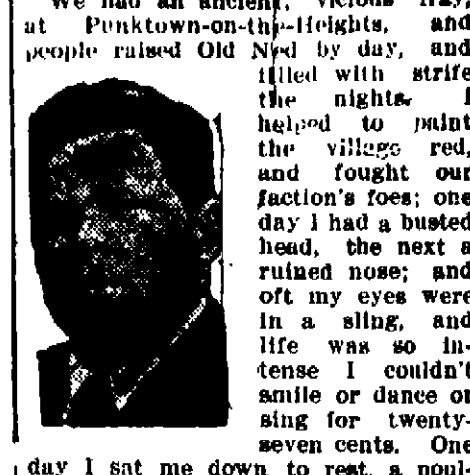

The woman with tender skin dreads February and March because they are likely to cover her face with ugly freckles. No matter how thick her veil, the sun and winds have a strong tendency to make her freckle.

Fortunately for her peace of mind the recent discovery of a new prescription, othine—double strength, makes it possible for even those most susceptible to freckles to keep their skin clear and white. No matter how stubborn a case of freckles you have, the double strength othine should remove them.

Get an ounce from your druggist and banish the freckles. Money back if it fails.

Uncle Walt

The Town Row.

We had an ancient, vicious fray, at Punktown-on-the-Heights, and people raised Old Ned by day, and filled with strife the nights. I helped to paint the village red, and fought our faction's foes; one day I had a busted head, the next a ruined nose; and oft my eyes were in a sling, and life was so intense I couldn't smile or dance or sing for twenty-seven cents. One day I sat me down to rest, a poultice on my face, and then there came a stranger guest, a man of wondrous grace. "I've watched you scrapping far and near, to put your foot to rout, and now" he said, "I'd like to hear what all the row's about." I hemmed and stammered for a spell about our local war; to save my neck I couldn't tell what we'd been scrapping for. "I've asked and asked," the stranger said, as he prepared to go, "why this poor burg is painted red, and no 'one seems to know." Then I obtained a flag of truce, and sought my warmest foe—full often I had cooked his goose, and he had laid me low. "I welcome peace," said he, "by heck, so let the White Dove whiz!" And then he wept upon my neck, and I shed tears on his. We thus might squelch most village rows, and shake our load of care; but we keep wrangling till the cows come home, their tails in air.

Praises This Remedy for Lung Trouble

Many people are led to believe that Lung Trouble is a disease which cannot be conquered. This is wrong, as many have fully recovered their health. A change of climate has helped some, but many more have been restored to health by breathing the freshest air, eating well-cooked, wholesome food, being temperate in their habits and adding the tonic quality of Eckman's Alternative, a medicine for Throat and Lung Troubles. Investigate this case:—

Bovling Green, Ky., R. No. 4.
"Gentlemen: The spring of 1908 I had a severe cough for six months. I tried all the medicine that my doctor recommended to me, but no results came from the better. I had night sweats, and would cough and spit until I got so weak I could hardly do anything. But at last, James Deering of Glasgow Junction, Indiana that I try your medicine. In one week's time there was quite an improvement in my condition, and after I had taken several bottles I felt as well as ever in my life. I firmly believe that Eckman's Alternative will relieve any case of lung trouble if taken before the last stage."
(Address: A. C. BETTERSWORTH, (Above abbreviated; more on request.) Eckman's Alternative has been proven by many years' test to be most efficacious for severe Throat and Lung Affections, Bronchitis, Bronchial Asthma, Stomach Colds and in upbuilding the system. Contains no narcotics, poison or habit-forming drugs. Ask for booklet, telling of recoveries and write to Eckman Laboratory, Philadelphia, Pa., for evidence. For sale by all leading druggists.

CHAUTAUQUA FOR NEWARK THIS SUMMER

FERULLO'S BAND AND THE BEN GRETT PLAYERS ARE COMING.

Complete Change of Music is Promised
for Each Day of Newark Chautauqua Week.

Partial announcement was made today of the Chautauqua program to be given in Newark next July. Francis Furello, with what the Chicago Tribune calls "the greatest band
in America," the Ben Greet players, Dr. Edward Steiner, famous authority on immigration; Clifford G. Roe, noted enemy of the white slave traffic; the Floyds, in magic and mystery, and a number of other big features are included in the list of talent to be enjoyed.

There is to be a complete change
of music each day of Chautauqua week. The main feature will be Ferullo's band of thirty pieces. Fer-ullo is considered one of the greatest band leaders in America. The Kansas City Post, after an extended Fer-ullo engagement, said: "Ferullo has made the greatest personal success ever accorded a band leader." Similar reports have come from Chicago,
San Francisco, Denver, and other large cities.

Some of the notable engagements
of the Ferullo band in recent years
include ten weeks in Palm Garden
at Los Angeles, 16 weeks at the Coliseum in Chicago, 18 weeks in Delmar Garden in St. Louis, and five weeks at Electric Park, Kansas City.
Last season Ferullo and his band
appeared in St. Louis, Kansas City, Wichita, Minneapolis and other cities in the north and west. The band will give a program here on the afternoon and evening of the fifth day of Chautauqua week.

A company of experienced actors, coached personally by Ben Greet, will appear here in "The Taming of the Shrew," one of the most popular Shakespearean plays. The Ben Greet players have appeared in every state of the Union and at practically every leading college in the United States. Many times they have played in England and in the royal presence. The Ben Greets have the reputation of not sacrificing action to beauty. They rely on their ability as actors, and each member of the cast endeavors to carry out as nearly as possible the intention of the author.

The Elgier-Howe Orchestral Club
is one of the attractions of the opening day of the Chautauqua. Included in the company are Francis Furello, violinist; Charles T. Howe,

flutist; Ferdinand Gardner, cellist;
and Mabel Abbott, pianiste. They will present a program of general interest to people of all tastes. Another musical feature of Chautauqua week will be a program by F. W.
Kickbush, noted baritone, and Jacob Reuter, violinist of international reputation. The Oratorio artists, famed throughout the land as extraordinary singers, will appear here on the fourth day of the Chautauqua.

The Floyds, in magic and mystery,
have been booked for Children's Night, and there will be a musical program in the same connection. The Boston Herald brands Floyd "the emperor of modern conjurers." Carrying elaborate stage settings, beautiful costumes, and possessed of real ability, the Floyds promise a program of unusual interest.

Dr. Edward A. Steiner, an authority on immigration, will be one of the Chautauqua headliners. He tells what the immigrant has done for America and the kind of citizen he has made. Dr. Steiner is author of "Trail of the Immigrant," and "his human interest stories of Italian life are decidedly worth while."

Mary Agnes Doyle, "The Colleen Bawn of the Chautauqua," will appear on the second day in a program of interesting readings.

J. S. Knox, expert on business efficiency, will be another strong speaker during Chautauqua week.

In the dress of an Indian chief,
which he wears as a trophy of war, Tahan (Rev. Jos. K. Griffiths) will appear here. Tahan is a converted

Indian and a distinguished lecturer.
He will appear here on the same day
as the Ben Greet players.

The white slave traffic, in one form or another, is older than Babylon, but it has remained for the present age to see it systematized. Clifford G. Roe was the first champion to enter the field to fight this system of slavery. One of the interesting features of Mr. Roe's lectures is the presentation of material at first hand, and especially worth while are the confessions that the speaker secured during his work as prosecutor in Chicago.

The Edwin R. Weeks Company,
impersonators and musical entertainers, will close the Chautauqua program. Weeks is known as "The Man of Many Faces." There are several other good Chautauqua features yet to be announced.

The Redpath Bureau, whose talent will supply the entire program to be heard here, is the oldest entertainment bureau in the world. It began its career with such men as Henry Ward Beecher, John B. Gough and Wendell Phillips, and has maintained
this high standard for more than 40 years.

ASK OFFICIALS NOT TO LISTEN TO PROTESTS

Condemnation of the action of the Zanesville Chamber of Commerce,
the Ohio Brick Makers' association and Muskingum county commissioners, in the form of petitions said to contain more than 800 signatures of Licking and Muskingum county
people, has been filed with commissioners of both counties and with State Highway Commissioner Marker, on the national pike squabble.

The officials are beseeched not to hearken to protests against improving roads with concrete. It is said practically every property owner along the course of the proposed improvement has signed the petitions.

Recently a delegation from the Zanesville Chamber of Commerce
and the Ohio Brick Makers' association protested to Commissioner Marker against making the improvement with concrete instead of with brick. They declared they were going to carry the protest to Washington.

Concluding, the petitions say: "We condemn any proposed visit to Washington, by any delegation of brick or other material men, having for its object any attempt to influence the federal authorities to agree to any change of plan."

HIS WIFE'S RESOLUTION.
"I wish my wife was less firm in keeping her New Year resolution."
"What was it?"
"She resolved that I would quit smoking."—Houston Post.

$12,000 PAID FOR SINGLE "AD" OF SPEARMINT

Local Discussion Leads to Inquiry
About Price from Chicago
Advertising Agency.

Two hundred million sticks of chewing gum at one cent each—forty million packages of chewing gum at five cents each—

This isn't the dream of a money-maniac. It's only the advertising appropriation of a famous chewing gum manufacturer for this year.

Think of it! Does it pay to advertise? No? Then what about that $2,000,000 advertising appropriation for Wrigley's Spearmint gum for the year 1914?

If there were no middlemen's profits to be deducted, and every one of those two hundred million cents
were "velvet," net, clear profit, Mr.
Wrigley would just have made

enough to pay his advertising bill
for this year!

In last week's Saturday Evening Post there appeared an inside "double spread"—a double page advertisement done in colors—heralding
the delights of the celebrated brand of chewing gum.

"What'd it cost?" queried a Saturday Evening Post reader in U. O.
Stevens' news store the other day.

"Oh, about $200, I expect," replied one bystander.

"Pshaw, nothin' to it," piped another. "That 'ad' cost nearer $2000. I'll tell you those 'ads' cost money, man. Y' can't get 'em for a song."

During the discussion an Advocate man dropped into the place.

"Probably about $9000 or $10-000," he ventured, when asked to estimate the cost of the advertisement—a single advertisement occupying two pages.

"The current price of a double spread like Wrigley's in the Saturday Evening Post is $12,000," says a letter to the Advocate from the Stewart-Davis Advertising Agency, of Chicago, and that settles the argument. The agency referred to is the one which "placed" the Wrigley ad, and is authority for the statement that Mr. Wrigley is spending about $2,000,000 for advertising
this year.

"But, assuming that Mr. Wrigley makes two cents profit on each 5-cent package of gum, he has to sell
one hundred million 5-cent packages of gum before he has even paid his advertising bill for the year.

And who ever would think there were enough gum chewers in the whole world to buy one hundred million 5-cent packages a year and enough more to equal several independent fortunes in the same year?

It's just a little problem in chewing gum, figures and advertising, which goes to show what big things
little things are.

Incidentally the incident shows that it MUST pay to advertise. The Wrigley people aren't spending two million dollars on advertising this year just for fun.

POISONS THAT IRRITATE

When the delicate machinery of the body is not working harmoniously, poisons are retained that should be expelled.
These may accumulate in the tissues and cause irritation. Should this irritation affect joints or muscles you have rheumatism; if a nerve becomes inflamed you have neuritis.

But if the system is kept toned up with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and no body poisons are retained, foods that once distressed you will be harmless, exposure will bring no rheumatism and neuralgia and even germ diseases need hardly be dreaded.

The lowering of the tone of the system which results from thin blood is easy to recognize. Weakness is always present, a tendency to perspire and fatigue easily, ringing in the ears, black spots
passing before the eyes, weak back, dizziness, wakefulness and unrefreshing sleep.
These conditions Dr. Williams' Pink Pills will correct.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills build up the blood and strengthen the nerves. In this way the general health is improved,
the appetite increases, and new ambition and energy developed.

These pills are sold by all druggists.

The Mind Expands As Health Returns

Quick Improvement is Noticeable
When Proper Aid to Nutrition is Given.

A low state of general health is now the accepted cause of all backwardness in children. So in the case of a backward child it is best to look towards building up the health. It will usually be found that the main trouble in the case of lack of assimilation of food should be taken in the kind of food given to the child. It is with plenty of air and exercise, and a little about a change for the better.

Waited the condition of the bowels, to note whether the waste matter is being passed or not. If it is either condition prevails, give a small dose of that contest of all laxative-tonics Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. Thousands of mothers are testified to the wonders it has wrought in the lives of their own children, and for it reason regions of families like those of Mrs. Daisy McBroome, mother of the boy, without it in the house. She is the mother of Lucile and has been using Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin for Lucile since she was two. Mrs. McBroome says it saved Lucile's life. It is the standard family medicine the McBroome home.

It is pleasant to the taste and so perfectly safe that it is given to infants, and yet is equally effective for grown people. All drug stores sell it.

LUCILE McBROOM.

and the price is only fifty cents and one dollar a bottle the latter for families who need it regularly. Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin has no equal as a cure for constipation, indigestion, biliousness, headaches, sour stomach, gas on the stomach, liver trouble and kindred complaints. It has so many advantages that those who once use it forever discard cathartics, salts, pills, and other coarse remedies for they are seldom advisable and should never be given children.

Families wishing to try a free sample bottle can obtain it postpaid by addressing Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 419 Washington St. Monticello, Ill. A postal card with your name and address on it will do.

TUBERCULOSIS GREAT PROBLEM IN THIS STATE

Medical Association Will Discuss
Cause of Ohio's 35,000 White Plague Victims.

Columbus, March 27.—That the cure and treatment of Ohio's 35,000 tuberculosis sufferers is regarded as one of the serious problems facing the state is indicated by the fact that there will be several papers on different phases of prevention and treatment of the disease at the annual meeting of the Ohio State Medical Association which assembles in Columbus during the first week in May. Dr. C. S. Roeschell, of Cincinnati, formerly superintendent of the municipal tuberculosis hospital, Dr. Theodore Zander of Toledo, Dr. Harry A. Berkes of Cleveland, and Dr. C. O. Frost of Columbus will discuss the various phases of the problem before the physicians.

Robert G. Patterson, chief of the division of tuberculosis under the state board of health, will present a paper outlining the work done in the past year in fighting the "great white plague." He will offer several suggestions for the coming year's work and will discuss the support of the hundreds of physicians who will be in Columbus to attend their state conference.

Reports received at the office of the Ohio Society for the Prevention of Tuberculosis indicate that the campaign for extension of Ohio tuberculosis hospital facilities is bearing fruit. In several sections of the state counties are joining together for the establishment of district hospitals. It is believed that within another year practically every county in Ohio will be provided with some sort of a hospital for tuberculosis patients.

FORCE REDUCED ON ACCOUNT OF THE "BIG GUNS"

(Associated Press Telegram)
Washington, March 27.—Development of the all big guns' ship will cost 125 men their jobs in Washington navy yard after April 1, it was announced at the navy department today. The new dreadnought type of ship though vastly more powerful than the old style of battleship, even of almost similar displacement has less than half as many guns and consequently there is less work to be done at the naval gun factory where all the guns are turned out. On the Connecticut, which was the last constructed of the old type, there are 22 big guns while on the New York there are only 12. The difference is made up in the much larger caliber of the dreadnought's guns.

For some time the Washington navy yard force has been employed in remodeling and bringing up to date the ordinance on the older ships, but this work is no longer completed necessitating a reduction of the force.

U. S. COMMISSIONER HAS DISAPPEARED; WAS DESPONDENT

(Associated Press Telegram)
Chicago, March 27.—Federal officers today continued their search for Frank A. Foote, United States commissioner who disappeared five days ago according to a report made yesterday by Mrs. Foote. Federal officials admitted their fears for Foote's safety although Mrs. Foote was confident her husband would return home unharmed.

Captain Thomas J. Porter, head of the Chicago secret service office said he had been conducting a search for Foote for several days but without success. It was reported at the federal building that Foote had been despondent because most of the cases recently had been given to other commissioners.

GOOD BIDS RECEIVED FOR REMODELING OF MUNICIPAL BUILDING

Showers & Taylor were low bidders on the job of remodeling the city building in accordance with plans drawn up by City Engineer Wells. Bids were received at the office of City Director Christian Thursday afternoon and besides Showers & Taylor, two other contractors submitted bids. They were Hugh B. Deberd and Walter P. Ferguson.

The bids were as follows for the complete work:
Showers & Taylor, $8,500
Walter P. Ferguson, $7,446
Hugh B. Deberd, $7,978
There is but $7,500 appropriated in the fund to remodel the building and the Showers & Taylor bid was the only one within the appropriation.

The addition of features not called for in Mr. Ferguson's original estimate of cost, made on request of the special council committee, accounts for the difference in his bid and the estimate sent to council.

It is hoped to start the work at once so the city officials may occupy the building by July 1 when the fiscal half year starts. In such case it will not be necessary to appropriate money for rentals etc.

NOTICE.
All persons knowing themselves indebted to Dr. Frank Barnes please call at my office and settle as accounts must be paid at once in order to settle the estate.

Famous Picture Coming.
The famous picture entitled "The Wyoming Indian Celebration" is booked at the Auditorium this coming Saturday and Sunday. This famous event was staged by the Union Pacific Railroad and a vast amount of money was expended in its production. Hundreds of Indians, cowboys and other western characters took part. Thousands of cattle were herded and therefore what is called a Round-Up. To an easterner this is a marvelous undertaking and it is shown in this picture to the best of advantage. "Buck" Maughman, who won the $500.00 saddle prize lectures on these pictures and explains every detail. Don't forget next Saturday and Sunday March 28 and 29. In conjunction to these pictures two very funny comedy reels will be shown.

Montgomery and Stone.
All ball neighbors, for Montgomery and Stone in "The Lady of the Slipper" are coming. April the third instance is the date. This news is just about as welcome as the coming of spring, for we are going to see the best of the season and treats you know are few and far between. So be yourself to the box-office on next Wednesday and make reservations as there will sure be some demand.

Montgomery and Stone, known as the most versatile comedians on the American stage, have been in partnership for twenty years. They first made their hit in "The Wizard of Oz" having originated these parts and then they started in the "Red Mill." Neither one of the former plays gave them the chance as does "The Lady of the Slipper," for so sayeth the New York papers and they should know, for it played the Globe theater one whole season.

Mr. Dillingham has surrounded these stars with a more capable cast including David Abraham, who plays the cat and the dog. Mr. Abraham is direct from the Deane Theater, London, and many other musical comedy celebrities. The production is the most pertentious affair ever conceived. Money orders will be accepted providing a check and a stamped envelope accompanies same. Just make it payable to the treasurer of the Auditorium.

$6,000 Rewards for Boy Kidnapped in Philadelphia

Rewards amounting to $6,000 have been offered for the recovery of Warren McCarrick, 7 years old, kidnapped from the streets of Philadelphia March 12. The police of that city have asked those of every large city in the country to look for him, but so far they have learned little.

A canvas covered wagon containing two men drove up to the sidewalk in a squalid street of the city where a little negro and two white boys were at play. One of the white boys went off home. The driver asked the other if he would like a ride. He said yes, just as an email boy might. He was lifted up on the seat and the wagon drove off, leaving the little negro staring after it. He had not been asked.

A friend of the McCarricks, a Philadelphia official, has offered $1,000 reward, while the city has offered $5,000.

ROBIN REINSTATEMENTS OF $630.
Hackensack, N. J., March 27.—Two highwaymen last night attacked Miss Susie Speight, postmistress at Maywood, with a blackjack and robbed her of $630 in stamps and cash which she was carrying in a satchel.

WHEN WE SAY THAT SPARTAN ART WOOD STAINS ARE PRACTICAL, WE ARE BACKED UP BY EVERY PAINTER OR WOOD FINISHER WHO HAS USED THEM.

Our present business evolved from what was originally no more than painting and wood finishing contracting business.

We started to making paint and wood finishes with a full knowledge of the needs of painters and contractors. Every product we make is the result of a need. We are not theorists, but practical men.

SPARTAN ART WOOD STAINS are therefore in the highest degree practical. We do not mean that they are just easy to apply, but they meet every requirement of a high class interior finish. They do not raise the grain; therefore require no sanding. When applied according to directions, they will not fade. They are both beautiful and lasting. Made in all the leading shades.

SPARTAN ART WALL FINISH—A germ-proof wall paint, with all the best features of a good calcimine or wall paper for decorative purposes. It is an oil paint; works freely and smoothly under the brush; dries hard and flat, without lapping, allowing ample time for brushing out. May be washed with soap and water.

SPARTANA—A superior varnish stain for refinishing floors, old furniture, and any articles that need renewing. Gives a bright, hard, elastic finish in any color desired. Will wear longer than any similar finish on the market.

Proper Public Sentiment In Newark Has Been Aroused; Success of Campaign Assured

Great progress has been made in the past few days by the executive committee of the Board of Trade in the work of organizing the entire city into precinct districts for the campaign of personal work to be carried on in the getting together of the factory fund, according to the plan adopted by the Board of Trade.

This committee has for weeks kept in close touch with the general sentiment, as well as any particular feeling in any one locality. It is with the keenest appreciation of the attitude of the general public, that they are ready to begin the real campaign, of personal work which will be city-wide in its scope, yet precinct-narrow in its application. That is to say, every person in the entire city will be given an opportunity to become factors in the work and contributors to the cause of industrial growth and commercial development.

The committee and directors of the Board of Trade feel amply repaid for their expenditure of time and labor, which have been given unselfishly and cheerfully by them, toward directing the development of the new plan adopted by the board as reorganized for one specific purpose only. Their idea has been from the first one of confidence that the plan was adapted perfectly to accomplishing the development of the city's resources and the expansion of its industries. It was believed that it was only necessary to bring the details of the plan to the attention of Newark's citizens of all classes, to have it meet with hearty and consistent approval, after it had been properly explained in its proposed operation. The right spirit has been shown in the reception of the plan among all classes of citizens, and a healthy public sentiment has been aroused and is felt in all quarters. The board, through the executive committee, to whom came many voluntary assurances of co-operation and assistance, feels that Newark's citizens should be congratulated upon this fact, that they displayed at once a proper interest, and an open-minded attitude, susceptible of being convinced by fair and unimpassioned argument upon a plain statement of facts. The object was at once seen to be a general benefit to the city through increase of industrial activity. Upon this there was no difference of opinion and from every quarter came a genuine endorsement of this proposition. Next the plan for accomplishing this end was carefully explained through the public prints, so that every one was given the opportunity of acquainting himself with the means proposed for carrying on the movement. Supplementing this general work was that done by individuals to individuals, and sub-committees of the executive appearing before various organizations, labor and fraternal, who explained to the members in detail every part of the scheme. These organizations, as separate bodies, gave written endorsements of the plan and expressed a willingness and desire to take an attitude of helpful endeavor. In these ways there has been a general dissemination of a comprehensive knowledge of what was wanted and how it was going to be secured.

This all goes to show a healthful civic sentiment, earnest and widespread, which is being crystallized and will carry the proposed movement to a final and triumphant success.

The Board of Trade executive committee is elated over the prospects and with no thought except for his results, is going into the campaign with hopeful vigor.

Obituary

William R. Osborn, age 70 years, died Friday at his home in Franklin township after an illness of several weeks. He was a native of Licking county and has resided here all his life. Funeral services will be held Monday morning at the home. The funeral will be private.

Funeral of Samuel L. Wilson. The funeral of Samuel L. Wilson, who died Thursday forenoon at the home of H. M. Jones, four miles northeast of Newark, will be held Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the home.

Mr. Wilson had been making his home on the Jones farm. He was 61 years old and apparently in usual health up to the time of death. The preceding day he had been hauling gravel with Mr. Jones. Thursday morning when he was arising from bed, he was stricken with an attack of heart trouble and death was almost instantaneous.

Death of Infant. Paul, the eight-months-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Miller, died at 10:30 o'clock Friday morning at the home, 342 Elmwood avenue, of cerebral abscess, which had caused convulsions. The funeral will take place at 7:30 o'clock this evening, and the body will be shipped to Bellville, Ill., Saturday morning for interment.

Acts of Thanks. We desire to thank Rev. W. D. Ward, The Royal Neighbors of America, neighbors and friends for their kindness and sympathy shown our wife and mother, Mrs. Bernice McCann. Husband and Children. 27-1t

NEW DISCOVERY QUICKLY ENDS KIDNEY AND BLADDER TROUBLES

Chronic Catarrhs Find Relief After Few Doses Are Taken.

If you are bothered with backache—or rheumatism, have disagreeable, annoying bladder or urinary disorders to contend with—or suffer with any other of the many miseries that come from weak kidneys, here is a guaranteed remedy you can depend upon, no matter what else may have failed to cure you.

It is a positive fact that the new discovery, Croxone, promptly overcomes such diseases. It is the most wonderful remedy ever made for ridding the system of uric acid, removing the cause and curing the troubles. It soaks right in and cleans out the stopped up kidneys and makes them filter and sift all the poisonous waste matter from the blood. It neutralizes and dissolves the uric acid that lodges in the joints and muscles, causing rheumatism; soothes and heals the delicate linings of the bladder, and puts the kidneys and urinary organs in a clean, strong, healthy condition.

More than a few doses of Croxone are seldom required to relieve even the obstinate long standing cases, while it cures the most annoying forms of kidney, bladder trouble, and rheumatism in a surprisingly short time.

You will find Croxone entirely different from all other remedies. There is nothing else on earth like it. It is so prepared that it is practically impossible to take it into the human system without results. An original package costs but a trifle at any first class drug store. All druggists are authorized to personally return the purchase price if Croxone fails to give the desired results the very first time you use it.

A Candidate's Revenge. French electors occasionally have some home truths thrown at them by candidates who fail to secure enough votes. At one general election M. Albert Normand, a chemist and druggist, who was a candidate for deputy from Montagne, received only six votes and issued an address thanking "the six electors who showed their confidence in me. They are the only solvent citizens in the constituency, and I beg to assure them of my esteem. As for the others, I hereby give them notice that in future all attempts to obtain credit at my establishment will be relentlessly refused. During the last nine years they have robbed me of about 2,000 francs in bad debts, which I have taken no steps to recover. Yet when an opportunity is afforded of showing their appreciation of my leniency I meet with the basest ingratitude."

SIMPLEST WAY TO KILL FLV.

THE London Lancet, the leading medical journal of the world, says that the best and simplest fly killer is a weak solution of formaldehyde in water (two teaspoonfuls to the pint). Place in plates or saucers throughout the house. Ten cents' worth of this liquid will last an ordinary family all summer. It has no offensive odor, is fatal to disease organisms and is practically nonpoisonous except to insects.

Helping His Temper.

The sun was blinding, clouds of dust were blowing everywhere, and Jones was most decidedly off his game. It really "put the lid on it" when, just as he was struggling to play his ball out of a quarry, a benevolent old lady passed by with a companion. She halted in evident surprise and pointed with her sunshade at the earnest golfer. "Dear me, my love," she remarked in audible tones, "what a very respectable dressed man that is breaking stones!"—Argonaut.

JOHN J. CARROLL

Madame Isbell's Beauty Lesson

LESSON VII—PART III. THE EFFECT OF COLOR ON THE SKIN.

The Brown-Haired Girl.

Most shades of blue are becoming to the brown-haired girl with blue eyes. The color of her eyes is not to be a deeper blue than in the case of the blonde and, consequently, not faded, by the juxtaposition of the same color. If the hair is a shade of blue, the complexion will be improved. Pale pink and salmon pink are often chosen by a red-haired woman, but, as a rule, she looks best in pure white or black, which strongly form a background for her own vivid coloring.

Brownettes. A dark woman with marked color can wear both red and the lighter shades of rose and pink. If she is at all sallow, she will find these colors trying, and a fresh complexion is cream or pale yellow. Purple is especially becoming to pale, dark women and the same type generally looks well in warm browns that point out the darker tints of the hair.

Brown is a safe color for most women, for the reason that the majority of American women have brown hair. The modern rule in choosing colors seems to be to match either the color of the eyes or the hair, and, while this is better than the old-fashioned rule of matching the hair to the color of the eyes, it has its pitfalls. As I have indicated, all blue eyes cannot stand the nearness of blue, and the same is true of a too general use of brown. In some cases it kills the life and color in the hair. So in choosing a brown costume be sure the shade either matches the hair or is sufficiently darker to form a relief.

With a Fair Complexion.

Young girls with a clear, fair complexion can wear almost any color to advantage. The problem is the more difficult for a woman past youth or one with a discolored, mottled or mousy skin. Pink, lovely on the pink-checked girl presents quite a different aspect on the rosy-checked matron. As women grow older the natural pink of the cheeks is apt to be less clear and it often takes on a bluish or magenta hue. When this point is reached all shades of pink or rose should be discarded. White is universally becoming. It enhances the beauty of a fair complexion and softens the defects of a sallow one. The average shade of blue all have a beneficial effect on the complexion and can safely be adopted by women of all ages.

TIME WASTED ON "MOOT" DEBATES

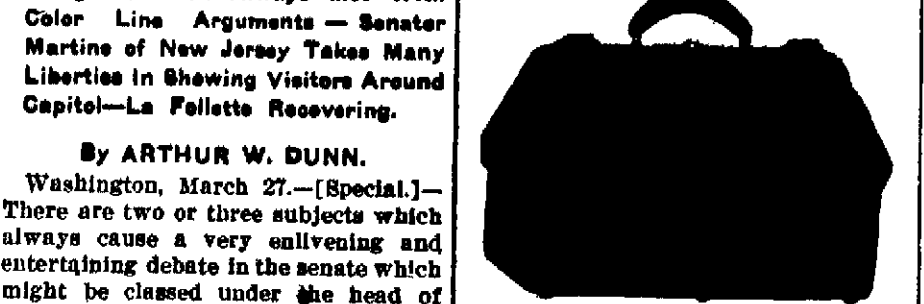

Fifteenth Amendment Always Cause of Wordy Battle.

NO GOOD EVER RESULTS.

Suffrage Question Always Met With Color Line Arguments — Senator Martine of New Jersey Takes Many Liberties in Showing Visitors Around Capitol—La Follette Recovering.

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.

Washington, March 27.—[Special.]—There are two or three subjects which always cause a very uninteresting and unentertaining debate in the senate which might be classed under the head of "moot" debates and which will lead to no good. One of them is the proposition to repeal the fifteenth amendment which allows negroes to vote. The other is the proposition that the United States government should enforce the fifteenth amendment and see to it that negroes shall vote in the South.

Every time these subjects come up there is a vast amount of discussion on the negro question. Men debate pro and con as to whether the fifteenth amendment was a crime, blunder or great political mistake. Men talk about the disfranchisement of the negro in the south and wonder whether the people of that region are going to abide by the constitution and allow the negro to vote.

Come to Naught.

And after all the talk and all the bluster and the revival of a period that is so long passed that it ought not to interest people, the situation remains just as it was before. The north will not repeal the fifteenth amendment, and the south is not going to permit negro domination in its states. In the vote taken last week on the woman suffrage amendment, two propositions were made by the Mississippi senators; one by Vardaman providing for the practical repeal of the fifteenth amendment, and it was observed that but one northern Democrat voted for it, and he was a former southerner. A proposition to insert "white" in the suffrage amendment so as to shut out the negro received the vote of three Northern Democrats, Newlands and Pittman of Nevada, and Myers of Montana, and they are all natives of the south.

Probably this matter will be discussed every time a suffrage question is brought to the front, but the result always will be the same when a vote is taken.

As to Platforms.

Senator Gallinger interrupted Senator Williams, who was making his usual speech on the "negro" question, and the New Hampshire man wanted to know what the Democratic party meant in 1884 when it put in its platform, "We believe in a free ballot and a fair count."

"Why," replied the Mississippi senator, "some fellow came into the convention and said, 'We will catch some negro votes by putting this in.' Let's be frank and honest with one another."

"I suppose," said Gallinger, "it was as binding as the free tolls plank in the Democratic platform of 1912."

"Just about the same," responded Williams, "and I expect it was put into the platform in about the same way."

All of which throws a little light upon the way platforms are made.

In a Favorite Role.

Senator Martine of New Jersey is never quite so pleased with himself as when he is escorting New Jersey constituents about the capitol and acting as a real guide. On such occasions he takes liberties which the average guide and few senate employees would not dare. He opens the doors between the senate chamber and the lobby and allows his constituents to line up in front while he points out here and there different senators on both sides of the political aisle, tells who they are and all there is about them. Anybody but a senator would be hustled away from that door quickly.

Have Not Heard From La Follette.

One reason why we have not heard from La Follette recently is because he has been laid up with quite a serious illness most of the time. A case of grip has kept him away from the senate a great deal, and he has not felt able to talk, although several subjects have been under discussion upon which he would like to have expressed his views. It is expected that he will be heard from on the trust legislation and the repeal of the canal tolls before the session ends.

Was it a Straw?

When Jim Mann expressed the wish that there was a Roosevelt in the White House to deal with the Mexican situation, was it a straw showing the direction of the political wind? We hear more or less talk about the Republican party getting ready to take T. R. for its next candidate.

Power of The Press.

The house adjourned one day last week when it was considering the $40,000,000 river and harbor bill in order to allow members to attend the Press club reception. That is a good example of the power of the press. Of course those members were sure of getting their river and harbor bill at a later date, however.

The knights of old were really Middle-Aged men.

Strange Timekeepers.

To ascertain the time at night the Apache Indians employed a gourd on which the stars of the heavens were marked. As the constellation rose in the sky the Indian referred to his gourd and found out the hour. By turning the gourd around he could tell the order in which the constellations might be expected to appear.

The hill people of Assam reckon time and distance by the number of quids of betel nuts chewed. It will be remembered how, according to Washington Irving, the Dutch colonial assembly was invariably dismissed at the last puff of the third pipe of tobacco of Governor Wouter Van Twiller.

A Montagnais Indian of Canada will set up a tall stick in the snow when traveling ahead of friends who are to follow. He marks with his foot the line of shadow cast, and by the change in the angle of the shadow the oncoming party can tell, on arriving at the spot, about how far ahead the leader is.—Johannesburg Times.

Carlyle and London's Noises.

No one has ever inveighed against the noises of London with such picturesque emphasis as Thomas Carlyle. When Augustus Hare met him for the first time at a dinner given by Lady Marian Alford most of Carlyle's conversation ran upon the sufferings attached to a London residence. "That which the world torments me in most," he moaned, "is the awful confusion of noise. It's the devil's own infernal din all the blessed day long, confounding God's works and his creatures—a truly awful hell-like combination, and worst of all is a railway whistle. Like the screech of 10,000 cats and every cat of them as big as a cathedral." Against this diatribe may be set the fact that Carlyle spent the last forty-seven years of his life in London without any compulsion to live there.

Helplessness.

The greatest moment in my career is when we awaken to the shivering truth that our life, to make or mar, is wholly in our hands; that neither dark destiny nor grim fate nor the stars nor the decrees of the gods nor the machinations of men or devils can cheat us of that greatness of soul and serenity of mind which are the crown of real success.

The most terrible note in the despair of the despairing is the sound of helplessness. To feel that the universe is a huge machine to grind us at last to dust, that the odds of existence are against us and that we are borne down by the tramp of irresistible forces—this is the salt taste of failure.

But when a man has discovered that he himself is master and that no outside force can touch his inner triumph that discovery is as of a new world. The America of spirit, the opening vista of limitless opportunity.—Dr. Frank Crane in Woman's World.

The Torment of Cold.

I thank heaven that I know what it is to be cold, to be cold from the crown of the head to the sole of the foot, to be cold from the cuticle in to the heart, and from the heart to the soul. I thank heaven for it, because, knowing this, I have a new revelation of the possibility of suffering, and I am able to find a paradise in a common wood fire.

Knowing this, I declare to you there is not a more pathetic sight in the world than a poor man who is thoroughly cold from week to week. It is the refinement of torture.

It does not gnaw like hunger, which presently becomes a sort of insanity and relieves itself. It is a dead, unblest, icy torment. I used to see men in the army whose silent endurance of cold brought more tears to my eyes than all the hunger and all the wounds.—Sidney Lanier.

LABOR ON SCHOOLS

Policy Outlined by the American Federation.

MORE PAY FOR TEACHERS.

Thousands of instructors of the Young Receive Smaller Wages Than Unskilled Labor—Educational Standard Low—Concerning Text Books.

When an organization has passed the 2,000,000 membership mark the official expression of its position on matters of public concern becomes important, even if for no other reason than for the voting strength which the organization represents. And when an organization of workers who furnish most of the pupils in our public schools outlines a policy toward those schools there should be a very general understanding of that policy.

For this reason the attitude of the American Federation of Labor, as expressed through resolutions adopted at its recent convention in Seattle, becomes a matter of general interest and public importance.

Prior to the convention in Seattle the convention of the Illinois State Federation of Labor unanimously adopted a policy which, embodied in a resolution introduced by a delegate from Illinois, received the support of the entire delegation to the convention of the American Federation of Labor. This broadened the scope of the policy outlined to cover the entire country.

In this resolution a strong protest is made against the practice in large schools of placing children to the number of 100 or more under the care of one teacher. Such a system is characterized as a "mockery," tending as it does to subvert the true purpose of the school by making of the teacher merely a caretaker of the children for a certain number of hours each day. The complaint is made that "the parents must do the real teaching at home, while the teacher reviews the work of the parents."

While magnificently equipped school buildings are being erected, costing enormous sums of money, the salaries paid to the teaching forces of these schools are often inadequate to secure efficient service. It was stated that there are 3,700 public school teachers in Illinois receiving less than $300 a year, a wage which compares unfavorably with that paid unskilled day labor. Declaring that what is true of Illinois is equally true of the entire country and that salaries paid in a considerable percentage of cases do not constitute a living wage, the convention urged that a minimum be established for all teachers which will assure better living conditions and make it possible to broaden the scope of their intellectual and professional activities.

A school system which underpays and overworks its teaching force cannot secure the services of competent instructors nor maintain the educational standard which is required to insure to every child the advantages of proper training. In order to overturn such a system the convention unanimously adopted a resolution to "demand in the name of the coming generations that a sufficient number of schoolteachers be employed by our school authorities to give a reasonable degree of personal attention to each of our children entrusted to their care, thereby enabling teachers to qualify as a real teaching force and as conservators of the greatest wealth of our nation, our children," and to declare "in favor of a salary for those teachers sufficient to secure service of the highest standards of educational value."

The report of an investigation into the matter of state uniformity of textbooks was made to the convention, which showed that in eighteen states a state commission prescribes textbooks for use throughout the state, in two states the determination of school books rests with a county textbook commission. In the remaining states covered by the report the power of deciding upon the books to be used is vested in the local school boards or in the school superintendents individually. The convention recommended and strongly urged the enactment of legislation creating greater uniformity in textbooks in use throughout the various states, extending the use of free textbooks and improving their quality. To this end the officers of the federation were instructed to draft a model bill to be introduced into the state legislature providing for state uniformity of textbooks and state ownership of the copyrights on books used in the public schools.—Eitelbert Stewart in Chicago News.

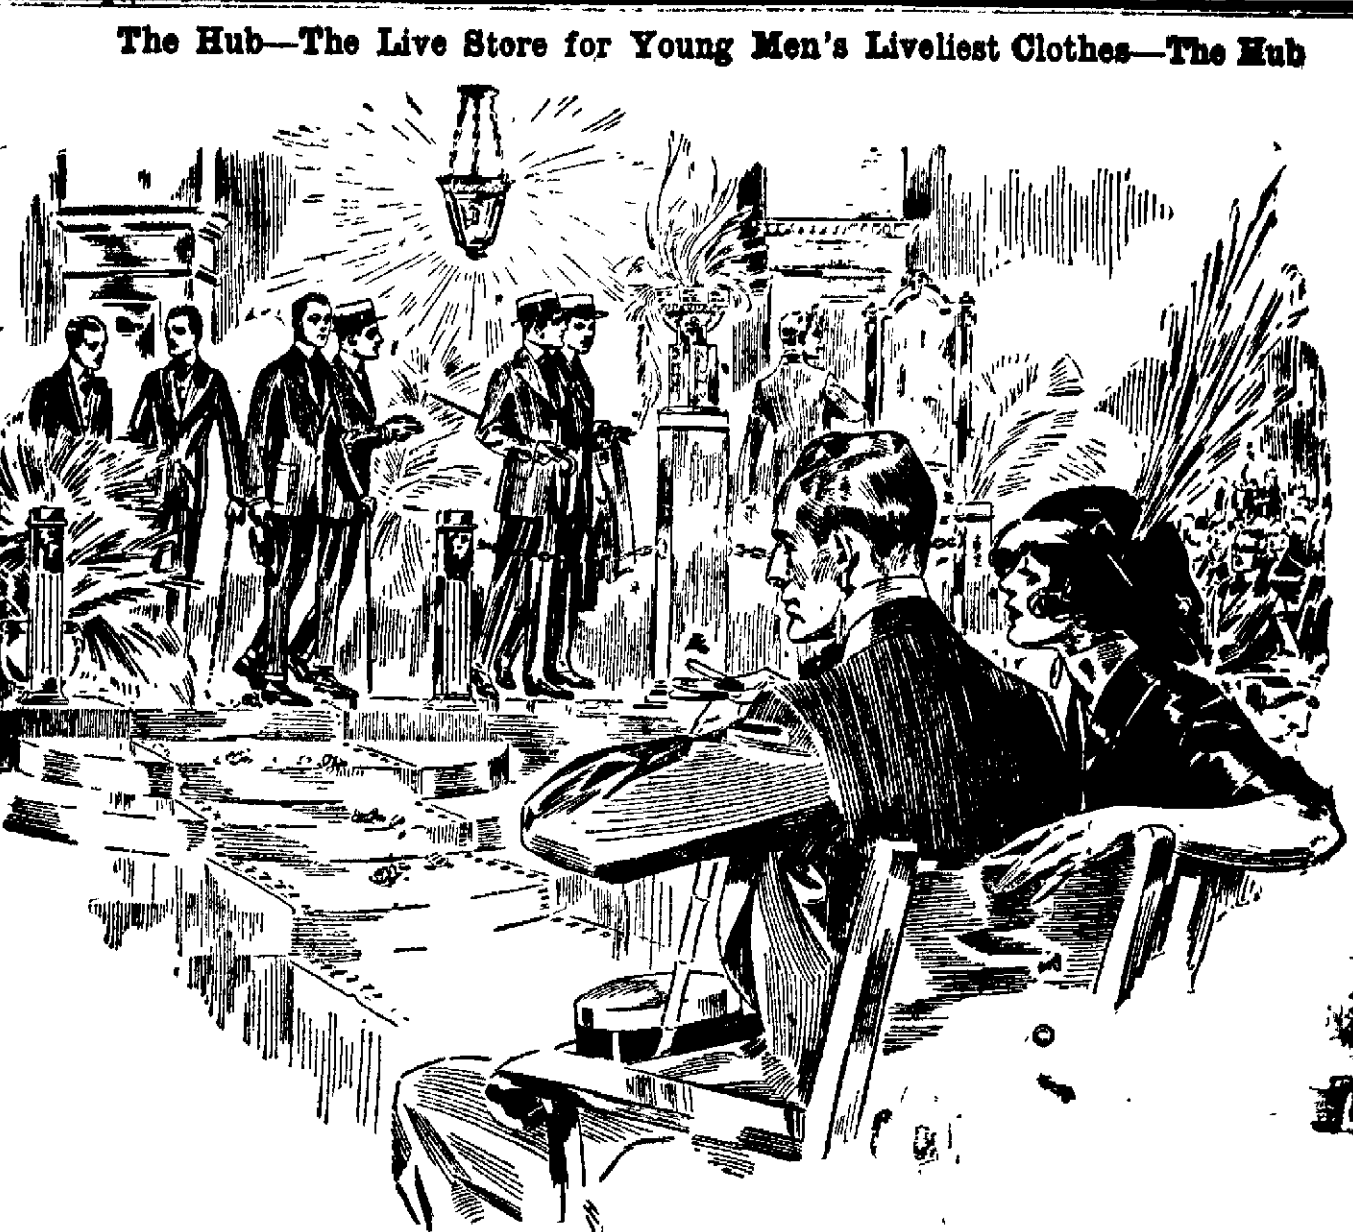

New Union For Women.

The proposed international constitution adopted at the A. F. of L. Electrical Workers' union convention in Boston last summer has been accepted by referendum vote. By it a branch for women is established, to include telephone operators and women shop workers, the women's branch to have lower dues and smaller benefits than the men's branch. For the men's branch the per capita tax is slightly increased and likewise the benefits.

Important Court Decision.

The Indiana state supreme court has held where an employee was operating a lever by means of which he threw machinery into gear or out of gear and his hand slipped from the lever into unguarded cogs that the employing company was liable for the injury. The court declared that if the cogs had been guarded the accident would not have occurred and that the slipping of the hand was not a primary cause of the accident.

LITTLE DISCUSSIONS OF LOVE AND MARRIAGE

BY BARBARA BOYD

The Wife Who Knows It All.

"Did you check the trunks right?" asked the Woman in the Green Veil.

"No, I checked them wrong," replied her husband. "It would be about like you," replied the Woman in the Green Veil.

"She knows it all," explained the husband to the friend who was having an uncomfortable time as the third of the party. "The other day, when I took your picture, I took it all wrong, you may remember. The light wasn't right. You stood in a poor place. I should have taken your profile instead of your full face, and so on. Yet that is one of the best pictures you have ever had taken. Don't you think so?"

The friend looked still more uncomfortable. "If it is, it's luck," said the Woman in the Green Veil. "You really didn't have the light right."

The husband, looking cynical, subsided. The friend thought things upon the married state. Finally their train was called and the three hurried out.

"We are going to the Arlington," said the Woman in the Green Veil, as the party settled themselves in the Pullman. "It's quite the nicest hotel in the place. Jim wants to go to the Belvidere. But that's not in it with the Arlington."

"Everybody says the Belvidere is the one. But if I went to the Belvidere, I'd have no peace, nothing would be right, so she might as well have her way first as last."

The friend looked as if she meditated speech. But she changed her mind and kept silent. The husband relapsed into cynical silence. The Woman in the Green Veil, perfectly satisfied with herself, looked out the car window.

"Don't take a taxi," said the Woman in the Green Veil, when they reached their destination. "The drivers are too reckless. They're bound to have a smash-up some day. Get a cab."

A red-nosed cabman and a horse that looked as if it would fall to pieces if it should risk a gait faster than a careful walk, conveyed them to the Arlington.

"Now, be sure to get sunny rooms with an open grate and a bath, and don't pay too much," said the Woman in the Green Veil, as her husband started for the desk. "I don't suppose he will, though," she said to the friend. "He's so easy. Everybody walks all over him."

And the last the friend heard, as they separated to their various rooms was, "Don't let the head-waiter give us a miserable table way back in the corner. Get one where we can see the people."

And as the friend softly closed the door behind her, she could almost have wished, had it not been against her creed, that the husband would get an affinity or a divorce, so that he might breathe as he wished, or do some things in the way that was right in his own eyes. And as she still further pondered the matter, she concluded that perhaps the course this wife was taking was the road by which many an affinity or divorce came.

SUFFRAGETTES BURN COUNTRY HOME NEAR BELFAST, IRELAND

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) Belfast, Ireland, March 27.—A suffragette arson squad early today burned down Abbeylands, the splendid country residence of Major General Sir Hugh MacCallum near White Abbey on Belfast Lough. The house, although fully furnished, was not occupied except by caretakers. The loss is $75,000.

The suffragettes recently threatened to start war against the Ulster unionist leaders because of the refusal of Sir Edward Carson to support the suffrage movement.

The grounds of Abbeylands, which is only four miles from Carrickfergus, a British army station, have been used recently for drilling the Ulster unionist "volunteers."

Bargain Hunting.
An amusing story is told in connection with the early days of Sir J. B. Robinson, the South African millionaire. He was crossing the Vaal river in 1890, looking for diamonds. He asked the natives if they had seen any "pretty stones," and at least he found a man who had a diamond. It was a small stone, and the prospector offered him £10 for it, but he refused to part with it. He increased his offer to £12, but still the man refused.

"What will you take for it?" he was asked.
"Twenty guineas," was the firm reply: "nothing less."
"I sent off to the nearest farm," says Sir J. B. Robinson in telling the story, "and bought twenty guineas for £10, and so got possession of my first diamond."—London Globe.

HIGH SCHOOL MINSTREL IS BIG SUCCESS

The annual High School Minstrel show was given before two large audiences Thursday afternoon and evening and will be repeated again tonight. The performance showed hard work on the part of the students, and the first part was especially clever. The proceeds, which will be large will be devoted to school purposes by the Boys' Athletic Association under whose auspices it was given.

The curtain went up on the grand circle, all members standing. The six end men were clad in red satin suits, and were the only ones in black face. The remainder of the singers wore full evening dress with a white carnation in the coat lapel. One of the most vivid impressions left by the show is the real worth, beautiful harmony and great volume of the chorus. All their numbers were delightfully done.

The role of interlocutor seemed to fit snugly upon the shoulders of Phillip Rhodes, and his clever work in the part added much to the smoothness of the first part. Following the opening chorus the first song, "When an Old School Boy Meets an Old School Girl" was given by Bryon Winn, who possesses a pleasing voice. The take-offs of the end men kept the audience in laughter and Ralph Cook sang "Go Get that Guy." Frank Graham, who has a baritone voice of real worth, sang "O Perfect Day," at the conclusion of which the interlocutor introduced the premier end men Goddard Chase and Frank Ryan. The songs were all new, and two exceptionally clever rag time songs were sung, "Will You Take This Woman," by Frank Ryan and "Monkeyville," by Edward Pearsall. The latter song was most enthusiastically received, as a clever depiction of a monkey as given by one of the members.

Belford Chedde in a delightful way sang "The Short Cut" and a semi-religious song, "Hymns of the Old Church Choir" was rendered by Raymond Paulson. "Dixie Day," a sprightly ragtime number was given by Harry Seigel and the first part concluded with "Bum to ra tum Zing Bum," a novelty song by Goddard Chase. The six fun makers were Edward Pearsall, Fred Nehls, J. Dale McNamar, Ralph Cook, William Dispenett, and Harry Seigel.

One of the features of the show was the work done by Prof. C. W. Klopp's High School Orchestra, the members of which are:

Donald Kessane, leader.
Carl Ankele, John Chester, John Criticos, Buckland, Howard Skinner, —Violin.
Warren Weiant, Ivan McPherson —Trombone.
Lee Risher, Charles Andrews —Clarinet.
Richard Fatig, Fred Jones —Cornets.
William Alspach, Fred Andrews —Drums.

Frank Graham, who won instant favor with the audience in the first part, opened the olio with a baritone solo, "Barcarolle," from the Tales of Hoffman and in responding to an encore, he sang "Sympathy" and "Just a Little Love, a Little Kiss."
Mr. Graham was followed by J. Dale McNamar, well known to Newark people in the past for his minstrel work, who gave a monologue interpolated with many laughs and sang two parodies on popular songs, the one "Get Out and Get Under" being especially well received. The monologue and parodies were written by Mr. McNamar.

"Shadowgraphy" proved to be a delightful bit of entertainment and provoked much mirth, being arranged by Physical Director Roberts of the Y. M. C. A. and given by Herschel Stephan, Frank Graham, and Dale Warner.

A novelty musical act was given by the members of the orchestra and the performance concluded with a one act comedy entitled "The Judicial Career of Hans Andraes Guckenschlager."

The farcical situations in this were well developed and the comedy well handled and it proved a fitting conclusion for the show. The cast of characters follows:

Hans Andraes Guckenschlager — A Substitute Justice — Prof. C. W. Klopp.
Con M. Along — Prosecuting Attorney — Carl Ankele.
Rope M. Inn — A Shyster Lawyer — Gaylor Mercer.
Wood B. Tull — A Bad Citizen — Lewis Kastla.
Holden Upp — Who Works Nights — Edward Lahley.
Little Phil — Who Steals for His Mother — Charles Barnett.
Officer Fynch — Not one of the Finest — Russell Rine.
Ella Gance — A Tango Dancer — Leslie Evans.
Miss Lightfinger — A Dark Shoplifter — Frank Ryan.
Con D. Rockeflow — Who Deals in things — Phil Rhodes.
Also the Jury.
The minstrel was a pleasing success both financially and dramatically, and much credit is due the directors, Prof. C. W. Klopp and Prof. L. G. Millner. The performance will be repeated again this evening in the High School Association.

A Spartan Youth.
It was raining hard one Sunday and the little boy asked his mother if they weren't going to Sunday school.
"No, not today, dear," she answered. "It's too windy and it's raining too hard."
"Well, mamma," said the little Portia, "it was raining yesterday and we went to the circus."
The mother immediately made preparations to go. — Ladies' Home Journal.

GOODHAIR SOAP THREE PRIZES IN BIG CONTEST

Three prizes that cannot fail to be appreciated in the Advocate's Big Booklovers' Contest are a dozen cakes each of the famous Goodhair Soap.

This soap was purchased of Mr. E. S. Miller of the Goodhair Remedy Company of Newark.

This is an industry of which little is known, though everybody does know of Goodhair soap. Goodhair soap is a pure cocoa oil soap, medicated. The old idea of having to use sticky salves and ointments in cases of skin sores, eruptions and itching sensation has been proven erroneous by the introduction of this modern treatment.

Goodhair soap is called the 20th century treatment for scalp and skin diseases.

If one is troubled with eczema, old sores, itching sensation or dandruff, it will pay anyone to get a cake of this wonderful soap at the druggists. Use it according to directions and be convinced that its merits have not been overstated. Its grateful users are spreading its fame and now it is not only being shipped to all the states of the Union, but is being sent to Scotland, England, Hawaii, Panama Zone, etc. Mr. McDowell, manager of the Cincinnati Enquirer says: "It is the best remedy I have used for Eczema." If your druggist cannot supply you, it can be had at 25c a cake by addressing, Goodhair Remedy Company, Newark, Ohio.

Just think of three prizes of a dozen cakes ($3.00) each of Goodhair soap to be had for the winning in the Advocate's big Booklovers' contest. You don't need anything but the coupons and catalogue, and the guessing is great fun. Begin today.

She Missed Queen Victoria.
Lola Fuller in her book tells us how she failed to see Queen Victoria, a misfortune due to the exigencies of theatrical contracts.

"One day at Nice some one came and asked me to dance before Queen Victoria. She had just arrived at the Riviera to pass the winter months, as she was accustomed to do every year. It may well be believed that I was flattered by such a request. I assented, naturally, and set myself to work making all my preparations for this important event.

"There was a knock at the door. A maid brought a telegram. It was signed by my manager and was couched in the following words: 'Take train this evening, to sail day after tomorrow; destination, New York.'

"I replied with a message pleading for a delay for the purpose of dancing before Queen Victoria. I received simply the following laconic telegram: 'Impossible. Leave at once. Time is money.'

"That's why I did not dance before Queen Victoria."

ORCHESTRA OF HIGH SCHOOL A DECIDED HIT

One of the pleasing features of the High School Minstrel Show on Thursday was the High School Orchestra. The Musical organization has been particularly successful under the leadership of Donald Kissan. The minstrel will be repeated again this evening and there is every indication that a large audience will witness it. The show has been highly complimented by those in attendance. Thursday evening and as the proceeds are for the benefit of a worthy cause the large Auditorium of the High School should be packed again this evening.

MYSTERY IS CLEARED BY CONFESSION

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Wilkesbarre, Penn., March 27.—A Scranton murder, which has been a mystery for the last 12 years, was cleared here it is believed, when William Pergam, 42 years old, a negro, was arrested here for attacking a number of little girls, and confessed that he attacked Miss Mary Quinn, white, at Scranton, June 2, 1922, and afterward put her to death with a mine sprag. The crime was one that stirred Scranton but the slayer was never run down, and it remained a mystery, although the authorities believed that William Perry, a negro, now in prison, was her murderer.

YOU CAN'T BRUSH OR WASH OUT DANDRUFF

The Simplest and Quickest Way is To Dissolve It.

The only sure way to get rid of dandruff is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, get about four ounces of ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

Do this tonight, and by morning most if not all of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop at once, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.

If you want to preserve your hair, do by all means get rid of dandruff, for nothing destroys the hair more quickly. It not only starves the hair and makes it fall out, but it makes it stringy, straggly, dull, dry, brittle and lifeless, and everyone notices it. You can get liquid arvon at any drug store. It is inexpensive and never fails to do the work. Advertisement.

Take Care

THIS simple rule of health is daily called attention to by every doctor in the land, whose first question to the patient almost invariably is, "Are your bowels regular?" Yet there's not one person in fifty who takes proper care of the bowels. And the result of this foolish neglect is nine-tenths of all ill-health. If today you are unable to free your body of waste matter at the usual time, or if the act causes straining, pains and discomfort, don't let that condition occur again tomorrow. Unless your bowels can carry away the waste materials left after food is digested, decay sets in, the poisons of which, taken up by the blood, increase the risk of Typhoid Fever, Appendicitis, and many other serious diseases.

In treating constipation, there is a right way and a wrong way. The wrong way is to take harsh purgatives which even though they do clear the bowels, cause griping and nausea, injure the delicate tissues, and so disturb the normal functions as to cause the return of constipation. The right way is to help Nature to produce natural movement, without pain or discomfort, by using

Rexall Orderlies

More Than One Hundred Million Were Sold Last Year

This enormous quantity was used with good results by busy men who suffered from constipation, due to lack of exercise, or indigestion caused by overwork—by children whose parents realize the harmful effect of common purgatives—by old people whose systems cannot stand anything harsh—by women during pregnancy, and after childbirth, when any medicine with a violent action would be particularly dangerous. Many of these people are your neighbors and friends. Ask anyone who has ever used them—they'll tell you Rexall Orderlies satisfied and helped them.

—a gentle laxative in the form of a chocolate-tasting tablet. One of these tablets eaten just before going to bed will help to restore your bowels to normal activity at a time when your body being at rest, the medicine can do its best work. As a result of taking that tablet (or say two, if your case is obstinate), your bowels will move easily and naturally in the morning. The use of Rexall Orderlies for a few days afterward will restore normal regularity. Even chronic constipation is benefited by them, and it is not necessary to continue the treatment for a long time, because, instead of driving Nature, they simply help her to help herself.

Sold only at the more than 7,000 Rexall Stores and in this town only by us. Invest pocket tin boxes, 10c, 25c, 50c.

This Is Our Guarantee—You Risk No Money

If Rexall Orderlies do not make your bowels act right, tell us so and we'll give back your money without asking a single question. There is no red tape to this guarantee. It means just what it says. You sign nothing. We won't hesitate, or ask you any questions. Your word is enough. If Rexall Orderlies do not do all you expect them to—if you don't feel better after using them and find that they are the pleasantest-acting and best laxative you have ever used, we want you to tell us and get your money back.

DEATH CLAIMS JOHN J. DEEDS SHEEP BREEDER

An illness of but a week's duration resulted in the death of John J. Deeds, wealthy landowner and sheep breeder, residing near Outville, Thursday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock. He was seized with the attack last Friday and while his death was not unexpected by his relatives and close friends, the announcement came as a distinct shock to many.

Mr. Deeds was an extensive breeder of Merino sheep and devoted much of his many farms to that industry. He was a native of Pennsylvania, having been born at Buffalo Creek, Washington county, Feb. 14, 1838. He came to Licking county in 1861, shortly after the death of his parents in Greene county, Pa.

He made the journey by wagon, driving a flock of 400 sheep. Mr. Deeds walked the entire distance, aiding his men in managing the sheep. He had become interested in sheep raising while a lad and he devoted much study to the question. He made his first investment at the age of 14 years, buying a number of sheep at the unheard of price of $5 per head.

His place, known as Grasslick farm, lies near Pataskala, is plentifully stocked with blooded Merino sheep in which breed he specialized. He owns five or six other valuable farm properties besides the one where he made his home.

He leaves his widow and eight children, some of whom occupy the farms near his home place.

Funeral services will be held Saturday afternoon at the home and interment will be made at Pataskala.

DOG CHASES HER CHILDREN; WOMAN FILES COMPLAINT

Charging that a dog owned by a Norton avenue resident chases her children while they are enroute to school, a woman in that neighborhood filed a complaint with the police department, asking for some action to safeguard the children. There are numerous dogs of this kind in the city and the police department has declared war on them. A general slaughter will follow unless owners keep the animals confined within their own yards.

Many a fellow loses his heart and says nothing who would put up an awful row if he should lose his money.

CAMP AND HILL WIN FIRST CONTEST IN MOOSE TOURNAMENT

Garry Hill and Ben Camp, pitted against Ray Garrison and Sanford Priest, won the first contest in the Moose pool tournament at the pool room of Robert Darnes in the Moose building at Second and Canal streets, Thursday night.

The contest was fast and was more interesting than the score would indicate. The scores were:

Hill	71
Camp	79
Garrison	150
Priest	53

A number of lucky breaks figured greatly in the contest. Camp was high man and was playing in fine form. The games were witnessed by a large and enthusiastic crowd which often showed its appreciation by giving a "hand" when some of the fine shots were made. A number of brilliant plays were made, which were about equally distributed among the four players. Several very creditable runs were made and the players should show even better form in the coming contests as they all proved to be players of class.

Monday night at 8 o'clock the second contest will be staged, the contestants being C. W. Miller and Cyrus Wendelkin vs. Harry Imhoff and Robert Ross.

The games were originally planned for 200 balls but by agreement it has been changed to 150 balls.

KOVACH CHARGES 2 WITH ASSAULT AND GUN TOTING

Simon Kovach, a foreigner, who claims he was attacked while in the North Pole saloon in Jackson street, is the prosecuting witness in four cases in Mayor Bigbee's court resulting from a scrap which started in the saloon Wednesday night. He charges Yeovach Vedock and Rodje Wellisovier with assault and battery and carrying concealed weapons, affidavits having been filed against both men.

They were arrested during the night by police officers and lodged at the city prison. Rodje was released under $35 bond for his appearance Friday morning. Yeovach remained in jail. Both pleaded not guilty to the charge when arraigned Friday morning and the case was continued until Monday morning. Yeovach was released under $25 bond.

While the fight was in progress a call was sent for the police but before the officers arrived the participants in the brawl were hustled out of the neighborhood and things in the saloon were quiet.

NO OBJECTION TO GRANVILLE STREET CONCRETE SIDEWALK

A rumor current for the past several days that a number of Granville street residents had refused to pay the amounts assessed against their property for the new sidewalks constructed last fall by the city, is declared to be unfounded by one of the property owners concerned.

"I paid my assessment of about $80 gladly," said this man. "It is now a real pleasure to walk out that street. I could probably have resisted successfully the collection of the amount but I was glad of the improvement though the walk in front of my place was good. As far as I know, there has been no protest made by residents on the street. Most of them are pleased with the improvement."

The city constructed new walks for several blocks along the street and the abutting property has been greatly improved thereby.

LIVERYMAN IS ENJOINED FROM OPERATING HERE

On his petition filed in common pleas court Friday by Attorneys Fitzgibbon, Montgomery & Black, Elmer J. Jones, Newark liveryman, was granted an injunction restraining Charles Whitehead from conducting a livery business here until the matter shall have been regularly heard by the court.

Jones gave $300 bond required by the injunction order.

In his petition the plaintiff says that he bought out Whitehead's livery business July 15, last, for $2,770 and that a part of the contract of sale was an agreement on the part of Whitehead not to engage in the livery business in Newark within one year. This has been violated says Jones, to his damage.

WEST NEWARK GIRLS ELOPE TO CINCINNATI, O.

The best laid schemes of men and mice gang aft a-gley, and so it would seem in connection with a double elopement that was planned here this week. Two young ladies living in the vicinity of Williams street, in West Newark, eloped to Cincinnati with two Newark men. They had predicted to their friends that they would elope and be married, but it was not seriously considered until they left the city Tuesday.

Nothing was heard from them until one of the girls returned to Newark Thursday, stating she was not married and had "left the man there", but she stated the other couple was married, but nothing has been heard from the two men and the girl. It is probable one of the boy's mother and one of the young women's mother will leave for Cincinnati tonight in an effort to locate them.

MISSING GIRL IS FOUND; REUNITED WITH HER SISTER

Cleveland, March 27.—Edith Schubert, 17, missing Chicago social worker, was found by the Cleveland police today in a telephone booth in a downtown department store after a search of several days. She told a story of being lured from Chicago by a man she met in a music store there. Police are looking for him.

Soon after being found by the officers, she was united with her sister, Mrs. Willis Melville, who came here today to assist in the search for her.

FAIRFIELD BOARD HERE ON MOORE DITCH HEARING

Commissioners Cresser, Detweiler and Selzer of Fairfield county met here with Licking county commissioners Friday to consider the Moore joint county ditch. After hearing witnesses and arguments of attorneys for those interested, the joint board determined to make it an open ditch instead of one of title. In the resolutions adopted, the county engineers of both counties are instructed to proceed with the survey.

COMMISSIONERS VIEW JOINT ROAD

County Commissioners Jones, Dumm and Orr returned Thursday night from a conference with commissioners of Delaware county and a trip of inspection of the joint road along the north boundary of this county. The road runs west from Crooked Run junction with the road running west from Johnstown. The inspection was made with a view to carrying out improvements along the highway.

The commissioners determined not to allow the highway improvement, after it developed that there were forty petitions for it and forty-one against it.

WINS FIGHT

the fortifications of the canal and absolutely neutralize it.

The administration forces open their fight in a twelve minute debate by Representative Adamson. He referred to the arguments in favor of the tolls exemption as clap net, poppycock and delusion.

Then, after more debate, Representative Underwood held a whispered conference with Speaker Clark at the desk and returned to his seat smiling. As he did so, Representative Campbell, leading the fight on the rule for the Republicans surprised the house by yielding to Representative Underwood. The House burst into cheers which continued vigorously for several minutes.

As the house quieted down Mr. Underwood began:

"I am opposed to this bill and naturally I am opposed to a rule for its consideration," said he.

"I regret that the bill is before the House. I hope it will be defeated. But, the president having laid this important question before the congress I believe it should be considered, but considered in the proper way."

The Democratic leader contended for the right of the minority to be heard and offered amendments and said he would agree to a rule to make the bill in order.

Mr. Underwood was again cheered as he took his seat, and that seemingly closed the debate against the rule.

Representative Hardwick, Democrat of Georgia, then was recognized to close debate for its adoption.

Turning toward the speaker's desk and pointing toward Speaker Clark, Mr. Hardwick shouted:

"The distinguished gentleman from Missouri whom we all love, joined last night in an eleventh hour assault upon the administration and his party."

"I will ask the gentleman whether he does not know that if he tears Woodrow Wilson down, no Democrat can stand. Doesn't he realize that he must support this administration or be turned into the wilderness for forty years more?"

As Mr. Hardwick concluded, Chairman Henry moved "the previous question" and a roll call was ordered.

Speaker Clark did not take the floor to discuss the rule.

Calling the roll, a task of more than a half hour under ordinary circumstances, then proceeded. Representative Anderson of Minnesota, was the first Republican against the "previous question." Representative Broussard of the Louisiana was the first Democrat to vote against it. Representative Gardner of Massachusetts was the first Republican to vote for it.

Representative Fitzgerald of New York, chairman of the appropriations loudly proclaimed his vote in opposition.

Among other Democrats to vote against it were Representatives Gorman, Goulden and Griffin of New York; Harrison of Mississippi.

Party lines were eliminated in the vote which was a round victory for the administration leaders. The balloting was preceded by an hour of impassioned speechmaking in which Speaker Clark, Representative Underwood, Representative Fitzgerald and other Democratic leaders voted against the motion to cut off debate. With the adoption of the resolution to stop debate on the rule, the next question was upon the adoption of the rule itself. Administration supporters were sure of its passage.

The special rule then was adopted 200 to 172. That put the Sims bill to repeal the exemption squarely before the house for twenty hours debate and protected against intervening motions and amendments.

(Associated Press Telegram)
Washington, March 27.—While the opposing factions in the House were lining up today for the opening of the fight over the administration bill to repeal the tolls exemption clause of the Panama canal act, Senator Owen addressed the Senate supporting President Wilson's attitude in urging the repeal.

He took the position that the exemption was in violation of the Hay-Pauncefote treaty.

"When the first draft of the Hay-Pauncefote treaty was submitted to the Senate, Mr. Bard of California, December 13, 1900, moved to substitute the following article," said the senator:

"The United States reserves the right in the regulation and management of the canal to discriminate in respect of the charges of traffic in favor of vessels of its own citizens engaged in the coastwise trade."

"And the Senate not only did not give a two-thirds vote in favor of such discrimination, but gave almost a two-thirds vote against it. So the whole world knew that the Senate had refused to amend the treaty by recognizing the right to discriminate in favor of vessels of its own citizens engaged in coastwise trade."

"With such a record before us we could not face the world and interpret the Hay-Pauncefote treaty as permitting discrimination. We refused to put in a provision, recognizing discrimination on December 17, 1900; we had recognized the doctrine in the Clayton-Bulwer convention of 1850 for fifteen years for equal terms to the citizens of all nations; we recognized it again in the Hay-Pauncefote treaty of 1901, confirmed by 72 senators to six and we refused to strike out of the Hay-Pauncefote treaty the neutralization agreed upon in 1850."

"The argument that the Panama canal is a coastwise canal for coastwise vessels is a strained construction. It is more than 1500 miles from Galveston to Panama, and still farther from Panama to Los Angeles. Is Hawaii also a part of our coastline and Guam and the Philippines?"

"Great Britain could own India and the British Isles, with about as much propriety, claim exemption for her coastwise vessels going through the Suez canal."

"Ninety millions of our people have taxed themselves to build the canal and now less than nine thousand ship owners are demanding to use it without paying for the cost of keeping it in order or interest on the prime cost."

"There is no common sense or justice in the proposal that one American should have the right to tax ten thousand other Americans for his private benefit. I understand perfectly well how a group of rich men owning a monopoly in coastwise shipping can stir up various organizations and patriotic Irish societies around seaports. It is the case of the three tailors of Tooley street, who resented 'We the people of England' and so forth. The public sentiment of the United States is based on common sense—honor, wisdom, patriotism and on established facts, and cannot be stampeded by a selfish propaganda not by the expenditure of large amounts in advertising or inspired editorials. Neither can the United States Senate or House of Representatives be stampeded by caprice or abuse."

Senator Owen referred to the Senate roll call to emphasize President Wilson's contention that the exemption was passed not by a Democratic majority but by a coalition of Democrats and Republicans.

OBJECTS TO USE OF CITY POLES AS BILL BOARDS

Service Director Christian, in an effort to improve the appearance of the city, is starting a movement to stop the posting of advertising cards on phone and light poles, buildings and fences throughout the city. He will ask the assistance of the telephone and light companies by having the linemen instructed to tear down all posters found in their rounds over the city.

Mr. Christian a few days ago found a man tacking cards advertising cigarettes on the city building. He ordered the man to remove all the cards he tacked up. When the man demurred he was threatened with arrest. The cards were removed forthwith.

POISON WAS PLACED IN THE CANDY

Los Angeles, March 27.—That a 14-year-old girl had placed poison in chocolate candy and oranges and caused the death of Mary Kilfoil several months ago, was the charge made here by Philip Kilfoil, who is in the county jail on a charge of mistreating the Palmer girl.

Kilfoil said that the girl believed Miss Kilfoil and a nephew stood in the way of him marrying her and used the poison in an attempt to get rid of them.

District Attorney Fredericks said that when the girl's reply to Kilfoil's charges is made the facts that it will reveal will undoubtedly result in the discovery of the actual poisoner.
